Table of Contents

1 Letter from the Director 2
2 The Weatherhead East Asian Institute 4
3 The Research Community 6
4 Publications 24
5 Research Programs of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute and Affiliated Columbia Centers 28
6 Public Programming 34
7 Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies 46
8 Students 48
9 Asia for Educators Program 52
10 Staff of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute 55
11 Funding Sources 56
Columbia will soon begin shaping a new history and humanities. With the arrivals and mentorship in Southeast Asian undergraduate and graduate students will faculty in the fall of 2017. Columbia's writing and literature, will be joining the who specializes in Vietnamese vernacular sor of East Asian languages and cultures United States and East Asia, who is a Associate Professor in the History of the Lien-Hang T. Nguyen, the Dorothy Borg Asian studies. This fall, we welcomed members who specialize in Southeast that Columbia recruited two new faculty summer events, I am pleased to report After taking part in these energizing nent center for Southeast Asian studies. Our goal of making WEAI a preemi-

The past year at Weatherhead East Asian Institute (WEAI) started off with a buzz of activity and excitement in the summer of 2016, when I had the privilege of traveling to Indonesia and Singapore to promote the study of Southeast Asia at Columbia University. In Singapore and Jakarta, my Institute colleagues Xiaoobo Lü, Duncan McCargo, Ann Marie Murphy, Andrew Nathan, and I held widely attended panel discussions and receptions that underscored the importance of Southeast Asian studies and strengthened our alumni networks in the region. It was inspiring to meet so many enthusiastic alumni who share our goal of making WEAI a preeminent center for Southeast Asian studies.

After taking part in these energizing summer events, I am pleased to report that Columbia recruited two new faculty members who specialize in Southeast Asian studies. This fall, we welcomed Lien-Hang T. Nguyen, the Dorothy Borg Associate Professor in the History of the United States and East Asia, who is a distinguished historian of the Cold War relations between Vietnam and United States. John D. Phan, an assistant professor of East Asian languages and cultures who specializes in Vietnamese vernacular writing and literature, will be joining the faculty in the fall of 2017. Columbia’s undergraduate and graduate students will now be able to receive top-notch instruction and mentorship in Southeast Asian history and humanities. With the arrivals of Lien-Hang and John, I am confident that Columbia will soon begin shaping a new generation of Southeast Asia–oriented scholars and leaders.

Even as Southeast Asian studies flourishes on campus, we have also seen WEAI’s Center for Korean Research (CKR), an already strong program, grow even stronger in the 2016–2017 year. In 2016, the Academy of Korean Studies awarded CKR a five-year Core University Grant that will support graduate fellowships, postdoctoral positions, adjunct teaching, Korean library collection cataloging, and the development of Korean studies research networks. Under the direction of Professor Theodore Hughes, CKR also recently became the new home for the prestigious Journal of Korean Studies. With the Journal edited and housed here, the Center for Korean Research is now a vital force in producing some of today’s most pathbreaking and deeply researched scholarship on Korea. I congratulate Ted for bringing the Journal to CKR, where it will no doubt thrive under his editorial guidance.

In the 2016–2017 year, WEAI welcomed to our community a number of new faculty who study contemporary China through a range of disciplines. They are Nicholas Bartlett, a medical anthropologist specializing in addiction and mental health in China (Barnard); Qin Gao, a leading expert on China’s social welfare policy (Columbia School of Social Work); and Weiping Wu, an authority on China’s urban dynamics (Columbia Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation). At WEAI, these new members of our faculty promise to develop new and multifaceted ways of thinking and teaching about the issues facing contemporary China.

Another exciting addition to our faculty is Paul Kreitman, a historian of twentieth-century Japan. With interests in environmental history and in the histories of science and technology, Paul has already begun to introduce new approaches to Japanese and East Asian history to our students and colleagues.

WEAI also welcomed a group of promising young academics to its postdoctoral and visiting scholar community. The 2016–2017 scholars are Peter E. Hamilton, the Dorothy Borg Postdoctoral Scholar in the Making of the Modern Pacific World, who focuses on the global history of Hong Kong; Miki Kaneda, a visiting assistant professor of music who studies transpacific musical and media experimentation; Victor Louzon, WEAI’s INTERACT Postdoctoral Scholar, who examines war and political violence in twentieth-century East Asia; and Simon Toner, the Dorothy Borg Postdoctoral Scholar in Southeast Asian Studies, who explores the history of U.S. development projects in Southeast Asia.

I am also delighted to welcome Nicole Vartanian as WEAI’s new executive director. Nicole worked for several years as the senior adviser in the Office of the Provost at Hunter College, where she led priority projects that crossed departments, disciplines, and campuses on behalf of the provost and president. Most recently, she served as the executive director of the Children of Armenia Fund. In these positions she worked to strengthen and enhance the operations and programs of the institutions and organizations she was involved with. In addition to her strong administrative, programming, and finance skills, Nicole is an experienced educator who received her EdD from Teachers College. During her first months, she has already brought her invaluable experience to bear on enhancing our goals and mission here at WEAI.

I would like to congratulate Myron L. Cohen, professor of anthropology and former WEAI director, for receiving multiple honors during the academic year. In the fall of 2016, the Shanghai Society of Anthropology honored Myron with its 2016 Chinese Anthropology Lifetime Achievement Award. Also that fall, he received the First Class Professional Medal in Hakka Affairs during the Fourth Taiwan International Conference on Hakka Studies. Additionally, the Taipei City Hakka Cultural Center presented an immersive public exhibit of photographs that Myron, a preeminent scholar of Hakka family life, took of Daqixia village in Meinong Township during his fieldwork.

The past year at Weatherhead East Asian Institute (WEAI) started off with a buzz of activity and excitement in the summer of 2016, when I had the privilege of traveling to Indonesia and Singapore to promote the study of Southeast Asia at Columbia University. In Singapore and Jakarta, my Institute colleagues Xiaoobo Lü, Duncan McCargo, Ann Marie Murphy, Andrew Nathan, and I held widely attended panel discussions and receptions that underscored the importance of Southeast Asian studies and strengthened our alumni networks in the region. It was inspiring to meet so many enthusiastic alumni who share our goal of making WEAI a preeminent center for Southeast Asian studies.

After taking part in these energizing summer events, I am pleased to report that Columbia recruited two new faculty members who specialize in Southeast Asian studies. This fall, we welcomed Lien-Hang T. Nguyen, the Dorothy Borg Associate Professor in the History of the United States and East Asia, who is a distinguished historian of the Cold War relations between Vietnam and United States. John D. Phan, an assistant professor of East Asian languages and cultures who specializes in Vietnamese vernacular writing and literature, will be joining the faculty in the fall of 2017. Columbia’s undergraduate and graduate students will now be able to receive top-notch instruction and mentorship in Southeast Asian history and humanities. With the arrivals of Lien-Hang and John, I am confident that Columbia will soon begin shaping a new generation of Southeast Asia–oriented scholars and leaders.

Even as Southeast Asian studies flourishes on campus, we have also seen WEAI’s Center for Korean Research (CKR), an already strong program, grow even stronger in the 2016–2017 year. In 2016, the Academy of Korean Studies awarded CKR a five-year Core University Grant that will support graduate fellowships, postdoctoral positions, adjunct teaching, Korean library collection cataloging, and the development of Korean studies research networks. Under the direction of Professor Theodore Hughes, CKR also recently became the new home for the prestigious Journal of Korean Studies. With the Journal edited and housed here, the Center for Korean Research is now a vital force in producing some of today’s most pathbreaking and deeply researched scholarship on Korea. I congratulate Ted for bringing the Journal to CKR, where it will no doubt thrive under his editorial guidance.

In the 2016–2017 year, WEAI welcomed to our community a number of new faculty who study contemporary China through a range of disciplines. They are Nicholas Bartlett, a medical anthropologist specializing in addiction and mental health in China (Barnard); Qin Gao, a leading expert on China’s social welfare policy (Columbia School of Social Work); and Weiping Wu, an authority on China’s urban dynamics (Columbia Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation). At WEAI, these new members of our faculty promise to develop new and multifaceted ways of thinking and teaching about the issues facing contemporary China.

Another exciting addition to our faculty is Paul Kreitman, a historian of twentieth-century Japan. With interests in environmental history and in the histories of science and technology, Paul has already begun to introduce new approaches to Japanese and East Asian history to our students and colleagues.

WEAI also welcomed a group of promising young academics to its postdoctoral and visiting scholar community. The 2016–2017 scholars are Peter E. Hamilton, the Dorothy Borg Postdoctoral Scholar in the Making of the Modern Pacific World, who focuses on the global history of Hong Kong; Miki Kaneda, a visiting assistant professor of music who studies transpacific musical and media experimentation; Victor Louzon, WEAI’s INTERACT Postdoctoral Scholar, who examines war and political violence in twentieth-century East Asia; and Simon Toner, the Dorothy Borg Postdoctoral Scholar in Southeast Asian Studies, who explores the history of U.S. development projects in Southeast Asia.

I am also delighted to welcome Nicole Vartanian as WEAI’s new executive director. Nicole worked for several years as the senior adviser in the Office of the Provost at Hunter College, where she led priority projects that crossed departments, disciplines, and campuses on behalf of the provost and president. Most recently, she served as the executive director of the Children of Armenia Fund. In these positions she worked to strengthen and enhance the operations and programs of the institutions and organizations she was involved with. In addition to her strong administrative, programming, and finance skills, Nicole is an experienced educator who received her EdD from Teachers College. During her first months, she has already brought her invaluable experience to bear on enhancing our goals and mission here at WEAI.

I would like to congratulate Myron L. Cohen, professor of anthropology and former WEAI director, for receiving multiple honors during the academic year. In the fall of 2016, the Shanghai Society of Anthropology honored Myron with its 2016 Chinese Anthropology Lifetime Achievement Award. Also that fall, he received the First Class Professional Medal in Hakka Affairs during the Fourth Taiwan International Conference on Hakka Studies. Additionally, the Taipei City Hakka Cultural Center presented an immersive public exhibit of photographs that Myron, a preeminent scholar of Hakka family life, took of Daqixia village in Meinong Township during his fieldwork.
in the 1960s. It has been wonderful to see Myron recognized for his groundbreaking contributions to the study of Chinese culture and society.

I am pleased to report that the Institute received an exciting public honor this spring when the University of Pennsylvania’s Lauder Institute named WEAI as one of the top ten regional studies centers in the world in its 2016 Global Go-To Think Tank Report. The Institute’s eighth-place ranking came as the result of an international survey of over 7,500 scholars, public and private donors, policy makers, and journalists who examined over 6,600 institutions around the globe. This honor encourages us to continue our commitment to generating knowledge about Asia, even as we think critically about how to update the role of regional institutes in the far more globally integrated world of the twenty-first century. I have every expectation that the Institute will continue to contribute in exemplary fashion to Columbia and beyond.

As I prepare to take a sabbatical at the Institute for Advanced Study for the 2017-18 academic year, I would like to warmly thank Madeleine Zelin, Dean Lung Professor of Chinese Studies at Columbia, who will take the helm of the Institute in the fall 2017 semester, and Xiaobo Lü, professor of political science at Barnard, who will direct the Institute during the spring 2018 semester. Both Matti and Xiaobo have served multiple tours of duty as WEAI Director, and I am delighted that the Institute will again benefit from their wise leadership and from their dedication to its mission. I am especially happy that they will be collaborating with Nicole to bring new perspectives and energy to what is an exceptionally vibrant academic community.

Sincerely,

Eugenia Lean
Director
Since its establishment in 1949 as the East Asian Institute, the Institute has been the center for modern and contemporary East Asia research, studies, and publication at Columbia, covering China, Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Korea, Mongolia, Tibet, and, increasingly, the countries of Southeast Asia. In 2003, the Institute was renamed the Weatherhead East Asian Institute to honor the generosity of the Weatherhead Foundation.

The faculty members of the Institute are members of Columbia’s Schools of Business, Law, International and Public Affairs, and Arts and Sciences, and of Barnard College. Annually, the Institute hosts a diverse group of visiting scholars, professionals, and students from the United States and abroad.

The mission of the Institute is:

• To bring together faculty, research scholars, and students in an integrated program of teaching and research on East, Southeast, and Inner Asia; to train students to understand the countries, peoples, and cultures of East and Southeast Asia in order to enable them to function with knowledge of East and Southeast Asia in academic teaching and research, in government service, in business, in journalism, and in nonprofit and nongovernmental organizations.

• To advance the general understanding and knowledge of East and Southeast Asia, both inside and outside the University, through meetings, conferences, publications, and otherwise.

Faculty and scholars at the Institute are distinguished by their interdisciplinary and multinational focus. Resources available to the Institute community include Columbia University’s renowned C.V. Starr East Asian Library and the Institute’s extensive ties to the business, diplomatic, legal, and media communities in New York City, the nation, and abroad. The Institute is also one of the leading centers for developing K–12 teacher resource and training programs in the United States.

The importance of East Asian studies at Columbia is recognized by a wide variety of funding sources, including the U.S. Department of Education, which, since 1960, has designated Columbia as an East Asian National Resource Center and provides 3 percent of the Center’s annual funding needs.

Through its research projects, conferences, and seminars, the Institute creates an international forum on economic, political, and security issues facing East Asia.

Directors of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute

Sir George Sansom 1949–1953
Hugh Borton 1953–1958
C. Martin Wilbur 1958–1964
James W. Morley 1964–1967
James W. Morley 1970–1973
Gerald L. Curtis 1973–1975
Gerald L. Curtis 1976–1984
James W. Morley 1984–1987
Madeleine Zelin 1992–1993
Madeleine Zelin 1995–2001
Xiaobo Lü 2001–2003
Charles Armstrong 2003–2004
Xiaobo Lü 2004–2006
Myron L. Cohen 2006–2014
Eugenia Lean 2014–
NEW FACULTY (JOINING IN 2016–2017)

Nicholas Bartlett
Assistant Professor of Contemporary Chinese Culture and Society, Barnard College

Medical and psychological anthropology; addiction and recovery; civil society; mental health service provision; psychoanalysis

Nick Bartlett is an assistant professor of contemporary Chinese culture and society in the Department of Asian and Middle Eastern Cultures at Barnard College. He holds a BA from Pomona College, a Master of International Affairs from Columbia University, and a PhD in medical anthropology from the University of California, Berkeley and San Francisco. Before arriving in New York, he lectured in anthropology at UCLA and the University of Southern California.

Growing out of previous public health activities, his first research project offers a phenomenological exploration of long-term heroin users’ recovery from addiction in a mining community in southwest China. Professor Bartlett is currently studying psychoanalysis and participating in videoconferencing exchanges with Chinese psychotherapists in preparation for a new research project that will investigate the reception of Freud in China.

Qin Gao
Professor of Social Policy and Social Work, Columbia School of Social Work

Poverty, inequality, social policies, and economic and subjective well-being in China and their international comparisons; international social and economic development; international program and impact evaluation; rural-to-urban migration in China and Asian American immigrants

Qin Gao is a professor of social policy and social work at the Columbia School of Social Work (CSSW) and a faculty affiliate of the Columbia Population Research Center and Weatherhead East Asian Institute. She is also an academic board member of the China Institute for Income Distribution at Beijing Normal University and a Public Intellectual Programs fellow of the National Committee on United States-China Relations. Before joining the faculty of CSSW, she was a professor and coordinator of international initiatives at Fordham University Graduate School of Social Service.

Professor Gao’s current research examines the following topics: (1) the Chinese welfare state in transition: size, structure, and redistributive effects; (2) effectiveness and impacts of Dibao, China’s primary social assistance program, and other antipoverty policies and programs; (3) gender inequality in time use in China and beyond; (4) social protection for rural-to-urban migrants in China and Asian American immigrants; and (5) cross-national comparative social policies and programs. Professor Gao’s work has been supported by multiple national and international funding sources such as the National Social Science Fund of China, UNICEF, and the World Bank. In 2017, Oxford University Press published her book Welfare, Work, and Poverty: Social Assistance in China.

Paul Kreitman
Assistant Professor of Japanese History, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures

Twentieth-century Japanese history; environmental history; global history; commodity history; histories of science and technology

Paul Kreitman’s research interests include environmental history, global history, commodity history, and histories of science and technology. He received his PhD in history from Princeton University in 2015, with a doctoral dissertation entitled “Feathers, Fertilizer and States of Nature: Uses of Albatrosses in the U.S.-Japan Borderlands.” He is currently working on a book manuscript exploring the relationship between resource extraction, nature conservation, and state formation in the North Pacific. His second project examines the political ecology of excrement in the Greater Tokyo area, focusing on the slow obsolescence of night soil fertilizer over the course of the twentieth century.

Professor Kreitman received his BA from the University of Oxford in 2006, after which he worked as a carbon offset consultant at Mitsubishi UFJ Securities in Tokyo. He joins Columbia after a postdoctoral fellowship at the University of London’s Institute of Historical Research, jointly affiliated with the School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS). For more information, please see paulkreitman.net.

Lien-Hang Nguyen

Dorothy Borg Associate Professor in the History of the United States and East Asia, Department of History
United States foreign relations; Southeast Asia; the Cold War

Lien-Hang Nguyen specializes in the study of the United States in the world, with spatial focus on Southeast Asia and temporal interest in the Cold War. She is currently working on two projects. The first is a comprehensive history of the 1968 Tet Offensive; and the second explores the role of gender, people’s diplomacy, and transnational networks of antiwar activism during the Vietnam War.

Professor Nguyen is the author of Hanoi’s War: An International History of the War for Peace in Vietnam, which won the Society for Military History (SMH) Edward M. Coffman Prize, the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations (SHAFR) Stuart L. Bernath Prize, and the UKY Department of History Alice S. Hallam Prize, was a finalist for the Berkshire Conference of Women Historians First Book Prize, and earned her an invitation to participate in the 2012 Library of Congress National Book Festival.

Professor Nguyen is the general editor of the forthcoming Cambridge History of the Vietnam War (3 vols.) and she and Columbia professor Paul T. Chamberlin are the coeditors of the Cambridge Studies in U.S. Foreign Relations series.

Weiping Wu

Professor of Urban Planning, Columbia Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation
Global urbanization, migration, housing, and infrastructure of Chinese cities

Weiping Wu is professor of urban planning at Columbia Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation and director of the MS in Urban Planning program. Before joining Columbia in 2016, she was professor and chair in the Department of Urban and Environmental Policy and Planning at Tufts University.

Trained in architecture and urban planning, Professor Wu has focused her research and teaching on understanding urban dynamics in developing countries in general and China in particular. She is an internationally acclaimed planning scholar working on global urbanization with a specific expertise in issues of migration, housing, and infrastructure of Chinese cities. Her publications include seven coauthored and coedited books, as well as many articles in top international journals. Her published work has gained increasing visibility, particularly her recent book The Chinese City. It offers a critical understanding of China’s urbanization, exploring how the complexity of Chinese cities both conforms to and defies conventional urban theories and experience of cities elsewhere around the world.

Professor Wu has had a number of academic leadership roles outside of the university setting. She is the vice president and president-elect of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Planning (ACSP), a consortium of university-based programs offering credentials in urban and regional planning, with more than 100 full-member schools in North America. Between 2008 and 2012, she was an editor of the Journal of Planning Education and Research, ACSP’s flagship journal. She has been a member of the International Advisory Board for the Urban China Research Network and has served on the editorial board of four journals. In addition, she has provided consultation to the Ford Foundation, Lincoln Institute of Land Policy, and World Bank.
FACULTY

Paul Anderer
Fred and Fannie Mack Professor of Humanities and Professor of Japanese Literature, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures

Modern Japanese literature, film, and cultural criticism; narrative topography; city cultures; modern tragedy

Charles K. Armstrong
The Korea Foundation Professor of Korean Studies in the Social Sciences, Department of History

Modern East Asian history; Korean history; U.S.–East Asian relations; international and global history

Thomas P. Bernstein
Professor Emeritus, Department of Political Science

Comparative politics with a focus on China and communist political systems

Myron L. Cohen
Professor of Anthropology, Department of Anthropology

Chinese culture and society: economic culture, popular religion, family and kinship, social change

Gerald L. Curtis
Burgess Professor Emeritus of Political Science, Department of Political Science; Director, Toyota Research Program, Weatherhead East Asian Institute; Distinguished Senior Research Fellow, Tokyo Foundation

Modern Japanese politics, foreign policy, social change, political economy; East Asia international relations

Carol Gluck
George Sansom Professor of History, Department of History and Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures; Chair, Committee on Global Thought

Modern Japan (nineteenth century to the present); twentieth-century international history; World War II; history-writing and public memory in Asia and the world

Shigeo Hirano
Associate Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science

Comparative politics; American politics; political economy; Japanese politics

Hikari Hori
Associate Professor, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures

Japanese film; visual culture studies; gender studies; feminist and critical theories

Theodore Hughes
The Korea Foundation Professor of Korean Studies in the Humanities, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures; Director, Center for Korean Research

Modern and contemporary Korean literature and film

Takatoshi Ito
Professor of International and Public Affairs, School of International and Public Affairs; Associate Director of Research and Director of Program on Public Pension and Sovereign Funds, Center on Japanese Economy and Business, Columbia Business School

Asian financial markets; Japanese economy; international finance; monetary policy; fiscal policy; public pension funds

Merit E. Janow
Dean, School of International and Public Affairs; Professor of Professional Practice, International Economic Law, and International Affairs

International trade and competition law and policy; economic and trade policy in Asia Pacific economies; WTO law and dispute settlement; U.S.–Japan trade and economic issues; China trade and investment

Jungwon Kim
King Sejong Assistant Professor of Korean Studies in the Humanities, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures

Gender, family, and legal history of Chosŏn Korea (1392–1910)

Dorothy Ko
Professor of History, Barnard College

History of women, gender, and material cultures in early modern China

Eugenia Lean
Director, Weatherhead East Asian Institute; Associate Professor of Chinese History, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures

Modern Chinese history; history of science, technology, and industry; mass media; affect studies and emotions; law and society; historiography and critical theory

Benjamin L. Liebman
Robert L. Lieff Professor of Law, Columbia Law School; Director, Center for Chinese Legal Studies

Chinese law; medical disputes in China; popular access to the courts in China; the evolving roles of legal institutions and lawyers; environmental law; Chinese tort law

Lydia H. Liu
The Wun Tsun Tam Professor in the Humanities, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures; Director, Institute for Comparative Literature and Society

Modern Chinese literature and culture; critical translation theory; postcolonial theory; new empire studies; material culture, semiotics, and new media

Xiaobo Lü
Professor of Political Science, Barnard College

Political economy of postsocialist transition; political corruption; Chinese politics
Yao Lu
Associate Professor of Sociology, Department of Sociology
Internal migration in China and Chinese immigration; collective resistance; public health issues; education and labor market inequality

Curtis J. Milhaupt
Parker Professor of Comparative Corporate Law, Director of the Parker School of Foreign and Comparative Law, Fuyo Professor of Japanese Law, and Director of the Center for Japanese Legal Studies, all at Columbia Law School
East Asian legal systems, particularly Japanese law; comparative corporate governance; law and economic development

Andrew J. Nathan
Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science
Chinese politics and foreign policy; the comparative study of political participation and political culture; human rights

Hugh T. Patrick
Robert D. Calkins Professor of International Business Emeritus; Director, Center on Japanese Economy and Business, Columbia Business School; Codirector, APEC Study Center
Pacific Basin economic relations; Japanese economy and business

Gregory Pflugfelder
Associate Professor of Japanese History, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures and Department of History
Early modern and modern Japanese history; gender and sexuality studies

Ying Qian
Assistant Professor, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures
Chinese cinema and media studies and Chinese literature

Jonathan M. Reynolds
Professor of Art History, Barnard College
Japanese architecture and visual culture

Wei Shang
Du Family Professor of Chinese Culture, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures
Premodern Chinese literature and cultural history

Haruo Shirane
Shincho Professor of Japanese Literature and Chair, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures
Japanese literature, visual culture, and cultural history, with particular focus on the interaction between popular and elite cultures

Henry D. Smith II
Professor Emeritus of Japanese History, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures
Late Edo landscape prints; the history of color and pigments in Japanese woodblock prints of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries; woodblock views of Edo and Tokyo; “Chūshingura” and the relationship between history and legend in early modern and modern Japan; history of modern Tokyo; history of modern Japanese architecture

Tomi Suzuki
Professor of Japanese Literature, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures
Modern Japanese literature and criticism in comparative context; literary and cultural theory, particularly theory of narrative, genre and gender; modernism and modernity; intellectual history of modern Japan; history of reading, canon formation, and literary histories

Madeleine Zelin
Dean Lung Professor of Chinese Studies; Professor of History, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures and Department of History
Modern legal history and the role of law in the Chinese economy

Daniel Asen
Associate Research Scholar; Assistant Professor of History, Rutgers University–Newark
History of law, science, and medicine in late imperial and Republican China; the cultural and social politics of expertise; the history of death and the body
Robert J. Barnett
Director, Modern Tibetan Studies Program; Adjunct Professor of Contemporary Tibetan Studies; Senior Research Scholar, Modern Tibetan History
Culture and politics; film and television in Inner Asia; nationality issues in China

Kim Brandt
Research Scholar; Faculty Advisor to the MARSEA Program
Modern Japanese history

Richard F. Calichman
Associate Research Scholar; Professor of Japanese Studies, City College of New York, City University of New York
Modern Japanese literature and thought

Kornel Chang
Associate Research Scholar; Associate Professor of History and American Studies, Rutgers University—Newark
History of race, labor, migration, and borders in the Americas; history of the United States in the Asia-Pacific world

Amy L. Freedman
Associate Research Scholar; Professor of Political Science and International Studies, Long Island University Political Islam in Indonesia and Malaysia

Gal Gvili
Lecturer, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures
Early modern, modern, and contemporary Chinese literature; literary and cultural theory

Harry Harootunian
Senior Research Scholar; Max Palevsky Professor Emeritus of History, The University of Chicago; Professor Emeritus of East Asia Studies, New York University
Early modern and modern Japanese history and historical theory

Mark Jones
Associate Research Scholar; Professor of History, Central Connecticut State University
Modern childhood and modern love in early twentieth-century Japan

Kristy E. Kelly
Associate Research Scholar; Adjunct Assistant Professor of International and Public Affairs at Columbia SIPA; Assistant Clinical Professor and Program Director of Global and International Education, Drexel University
Globalization, development, and postsocialist transformation in Vietnam and Southeast Asia; gender and feminism studies; sociology of education; politics of knowledge

Laurel Kendall
Senior Research Scholar; Chair of the Division of Anthropology and Curator in Charge of Asian Ethnographic Collections, American Museum of Natural History; President, Association for Asian Studies, 2016–2017
Korean anthropology focusing on Shamans; Korea and Vietnam; material religion; regional comparisons

Samuel S. Kim
Senior Research Scholar
Korean foreign relations and politics; Chinese foreign policy

Yukiko Koga
Associate Research Scholar; Assistant Professor of Anthropology, Hunter College, City University of New York
Political economy; historical anthropology; legal anthropology; law and human rights; urban space; postcolonial and postimperial relations; history and memory; transnational East Asia (China and Japan)

Kumiko Makihara
Associate Research Scholar
Comparative education; mass media; contemporary world history

Roberta H. Martin
Senior Research Scholar; Director, Asia for Educators; Director, Columbia University National Coordinating Site of the National Consortium for Teaching about Asia
Education about East Asia in U.S. schools; education in China

Duncan McCargo
Visiting Professor of Political Science, Columbia University; Professor of Political Science, University of Leeds
Politics of Thailand; comparative politics of Southeast Asia

Ann Marie Murphy
Senior Research Scholar; Associate Professor, School of Diplomacy and International Relations, Seton Hall University; Fellow, National Asia Research Program; Associate Fellow, Asia Society
International relations of Southeast Asia; political development in Southeast Asia; U.S. foreign policy toward Southeast Asia

Carl Riskin
Senior Research Scholar; Adjunct Professor of Economics; Distinguished Professor of Economics, Queens College, City University of New York
Income distribution in China; poverty and poverty reduction policies in China; problems of economic reform

Daniel H. Rosen
Adjunct Associate Professor; Partner, The Rhodium Group
International economics; Chinese economics
Morris Rossabi
Senior Research Scholar; Adjunct Professor of Inner Asian History; Distinguished Professor of History, Queens College, City University of New York

Mongolian history

Murray Rubinstein
Senior Research Scholar; Professor of History, Baruch College, City University of New York

Christianity in China and Taiwan; development of modern Taiwan; government, politics, and religion

Orville Schell
Senior Research Scholar; Arthur Ross Director of the Center on U.S.–China Relations at Asia Society in New York

Chinese history

James D. Seymour
Senior Research Scholar

Politics of the PRC, especially Tibet and the northwest; comparative human rights

Yumi Shimabukuro
Associate Research Scholar; Lecturer in Discipline, Columbia SIPA

Political economy of Northeast Asia and redistributive politics

Sonam Tsering
Lecturer, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures

Language and culture; nonmonastic rituals and ceremonies in Amdo

Elizabeth Wishnick
Senior Research Scholar; Professor of Political Science and Law, Montclair State University

Chinese foreign policy; nontraditional security in Asia; great power relations in Central Asia

Joel S. Wit
Senior Research Scholar; Senior Fellow, U.S.–Korea Institute at Johns Hopkins SAIS

U.S.–North Korea relations and foreign policy

Chuck Wooldridge
Associate Research Scholar; Associate Professor of History, Lehman College, City University of New York

History of East Asia; world history; history of religions; history of technology

Xiaodan Zhang
Research Scholar; Associate Professor of Sociology, York College, City University of New York

Sociology of work and organization; gender studies
VISITING FACULTY 2016-2017

David Brophy

Associate Research Scholar, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures

History of Qing and Republican China; early Modern Eurasia Colonialism and national movements; Islam (particularly Sufism) and Islamic historiography

David Brophy is an associate research scholar in the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures and a lecturer in modern Chinese history at the University of Sydney. He studies the social and political history of China's northwest, particularly Xinjiang, and its connections with the Islamic and Russian/Soviet worlds. After finishing his PhD at Harvard in 2011, Professor Brophy spent two years as a postdoctoral fellow at the Australian Centre on China in the World, at the Australian National University. His book Uyghur Nation: Reform and Revolution on the Russia-China Frontier (Harvard University Press, 2016) is about the politics of Uyghur nationalism between Xinjiang and the Soviet Union in the early twentieth century. Most of Professor Brophy’s new research engages with the Manchu-language archive on Qing China’s eighteenth-century expansion.

Takako Hikotani

Gerald L. Curtis Visiting Associate Professor of Modern Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy

Civil-military relations and Japanese domestic politics; Japanese foreign policy; comparative civil-military relations

Takako Hikotani is an associate professor at the Department of Public Policy and Graduate School of Security Studies at the National Defense Academy of Japan. She also serves as faculty advisor at the Center for International Exchange at the academy, and lectures at the Ground Self Defense Force and Air Self Defense Force Staff Colleges and at the National Institute for Defense Studies. Her research focuses on civil-military relations and Japanese domestic politics, Japanese foreign policy, and comparative civil-military relations. Dr. Hikotani’s publications (in English) include “Japan’s New Executive Leadership: How Electoral Rules Make Japanese Security Policy” (with Margarita Estevez-Abe and Toshio Nagahisa), in Francis Rosenbluth and Masaru Kohno eds., Japan in the World (Yale University Press, 2009); and “Civilian Control and Civil-Military Gaps in the United States, Japan, and China” (with Peter Feaver and Shaun Narine), in Asian Perspective 29, no. 1, March 2006. Dr. Hikotani advised and appeared on PBS’s Wide Angle program, “Japan’s About Face,” July 8, 2008. She was a visiting professional specialist at Princeton University and an Abe Fellow at the Social Science Research Council (2010–2011), as well as a Suntory Foundation Torii Fellow (2000–2001) and a fellow of the US-Japan Leadership Program, US-Japan Foundation (2000–). Dr. Hikotani received her BA from Keio University, MAs from Keio University and Stanford University, and PhD in political science from Columbia University, where she was a President’s Fellow.
Stephen Noerper

Adjunct Associate Professor of International and Public Affairs
Korean politics; international relations; East Asian politics

Stephen Noerper serves as the Korea Society senior director for policy and as an adjunct fellow with Pacific Forum CSIS. He was a senior fellow at the EastWest Institute and an associate professor of international relations at New York University. Dr. Noerper also taught at American University, Waseda University, and the National University of Mongolia, where he was a Fulbright senior scholar. He was an Intellibridge vice president and a senior U.S. State Department analyst. Dr. Noerper served prior as an associate professor at the Asia Pacific Center for Security Studies in Hawaii and a Washington representative for the Nautilus Institute. He was a fellow at the East-West Center, ROK IFANS, and Murrow Center. He publishes widely and appears in major media, including CNN, Bloomberg, BBC, MSNBC, NHK, NPR, and VOA. He is a graduate of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy and London School of Economics. Dr. Noerper is a member of the National Committee on North Korea (NCNK) and a board member of the Van Fleet Foundation.

Ronald M. Schramm

Visiting Associate Professor of International and Public Affairs
Chinese economy and business; macroeconomics; international business

Ron Schramm has been conducting research related to China since the early 1990s and is now on the faculty of the International Business School of Suzhou (IBSS) as an associate professor. Prior to joining IBSS (where he served as PhD Program Director and also the MSc Economics Program Director), he had been on the faculty of Columbia Business School for over 27 years. Dr. Schramm also recently served as finance editor for the International Journal of Emerging Markets. He holds a bachelor’s degree from Harvard University (with honors) and a Master of Arts, Master of Philosophy, and PhD in Economics from Columbia University. He was a Fulbright scholar at the University of International Business and Economics in Beijing (where he taught the first course ever in corporate valuation—2003); a Visiting Scholar at Shanghai Jiao Tong University (2000); and a Visiting Scholar at Hong Kong University of Science and Technology (1997). He was a visiting professor at Chinese-European International Business School (CEIBS) in Shanghai, in 2008-2016, and at Dongbei University of Finance and Economics.

POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWS 2016-2017

Peter E. Hamilton
Dorothy Borg Postdoctoral Scholar in the Making of the Modern Pacific World
China and the world; transpacific networks of migration and business; Sino-U.S. relations; new histories of East Asian capitalism

Peter E. Hamilton received his doctorate in History from the University of Texas at Austin in 2015. He is a historian of China and the world and the modern Pacific. His research explores transpacific networks of migration and business, Sino-U.S. relations, and new histories of East Asian capitalism. He is currently preparing a book manuscript, “The Networked Colony: Hong Kong, American Social Capital, and China’s Globalization.” Based on his dissertation’s extensive archival research from across Hong Kong, Britain, and the United States, this work argues that Hong Kong’s rapid economic development between 1949 and 1978 provides essential context to understand China’s post-1978 export-driven development and today’s Sino-U.S. trading relationship. In particular, Dr. Hamilton argues that Hong Kong transformed during the first decades of the Cold War, not as a “tiger” economy or as a British colony, but because its elite Chinese capitalists developed instrumental commercial and educational relationships with the United States. When mainland China initiated reforms in the late 1970s, Hong Kong’s transpacific networks midwifed its reintegration into global capitalism as a major U.S. trading partner.

Dr. Hamilton has published peer-reviewed articles in the International History Review and the Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society. He also has an anthology chapter forthcoming from the University of Hawaii Press. Dr. Hamilton is currently beginning research for his second project, which examines the expansion of the MBA degree across the Sinophone world since the 1960s.

A native of Kansas City, Dr. Hamilton graduated from Yale University in 2007, where he studied history and Mandarin Chinese. He served as a Yale-China Teaching Fellow at the Chinese University of Hong Kong’s New Asia College from 2007 to 2009. He joins Columbia after completing a postdoctoral fellowship at UT Austin’s Institute for Historical Studies.

Miki Kaneda
Visiting Assistant Professor of Music, Department of Music
Musicology; ethnomusicology; media ecologies

Miki Kaneda’s research focuses on transcultural crossings and the entanglements of race, gender, power, and colonial residues in experimental, avant-garde, and popular music in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. Trained in musicology and ethnomusicology, she has published on topics including the transnational flows of experimental music, graphic scores, art and the everyday, and media ecologies. Her current book project titled “The Unexpected Collectives: Transpacific Musical Experimentalisms” is an ethnographic and historical study that focuses on intermedia (a kind of multimedia art) as a vehicle to examine transpacific artistic exchanges and relations of power through the work of 1960s Japanese and American musicians. In 2015, she was appointed assistant professor of music at Boston University. She has also held positions at the Reischauer Institute of Japanese Studies at Harvard University and the Museum of Modern Art, where she was a founding coeditor of the web platform post.at.moma.org.

Victor Louzon
2016–2017 International Network to Expand Regional and Collaborative Teaching (INTERACT) Postdoctoral Scholar, Weatherhead East Asian Institute
History of China and Taiwan; war and cultural demobilizations; colonial and postcolonial history; violence and war

Victor Louzon holds his PhD from Sciences Po. He received his undergraduate training at Sciences Po, the Institut National des Langues et Civilisations Orientales (Paris), and the University of British Columbia (Van-
Dr. Louzon was a visiting graduate student at Qinghua (Beijing) and NCCU (Taipei) and was a Fox Fellow and Fulbright doctoral student at Yale University. He originally specialized in modern Chinese history, but his research interests now extend to war and political violence in East Asia in the twentieth century and to contemporary tensions in the region. Dr. Louzon’s PhD dissertation deals with the 1947 “February 28th” incident against Chinese Kuomintang rule in Taiwan, considered as an aftershock of the Sino-Japanese War.

Rune Steenberg Reyhe

2016–2017 International Network to Expand Regional and Collaborative Teaching (INTERACT) Postdoctoral Fellow, Harriman Institute

Kinship; exchange; Central Asia; Kyrgyzstan; China; Xinjiang; money/finance; border trade; social networks and community

Rune Steenberg Reyhe is a trained anthropologist and human geographer. He received his MA and PhD from Freie Universität Berlin and has subsequently been a postdoctoral fellow at the Dahlem Research School of Freie Universität Berlin and a Crossroads Asia fellow at Bonn University. Dr. Steenberg has done research in Kyrgyzstan and Xinjiang since 2007. In southern Kyrgyzstan, he examined social interaction around the annual walnut harvest and the networks of Uyghur traders from western Xinjiang. He has followed these networks to their villages of origin around Kashgar city, where he found marriages to be a central institution for their success in business and, more generally, social organization beyond markets and state institutions. At the center of his research is a focus on conceptualizations of social relations and their expression and constitution in spatial, physical, verbal, and exchange practices.

During his time in Berlin, Dr. Steenberg has taught courses on the history of anthropological theory, methods of social anthropology, methods of human geography, and the Uyghur language. At the Harriman Institute, he has explored nuances in the language of giving at life cycle rituals in a more comparative perspective across post-Soviet and Chinese Central Asia and its multiplex interaction with state institutions. As an extension of this research, he has recently started to explore the meanings and social significance of money lending, money transfer, monetization, and financialization among Uyghurs in Xinjiang and beyond. A further strand of his research interest concerns the historical development of Uyghur kinship practices and conceptualizations in Xinjiang. Dr. Steenberg has also been working in eastern China and Indonesia.

His publications include “Crossing at Irkeshtam: Kinship and Border Trade Between Kyrgyzstan and China,” in the volume Tracing Connections (2014), edited by Andreas Benz and Henryk Alff; and “Tausch und Kategorien bei der Nussernte in Kyzyl Üngkür,” in Mensch und Umwelt in Kirgistan (2014), edited by Matthias Schmidt; as well as the Crossroads Asia Working Paper “Network or Community? Two tropes for analysing social relations among Uyghur traders in Kyrgyzstan” (2014), and “The Transforming House—Changing Spatiality and Genealogy of ‘the House’ in Kashgar” in Mobiles Asia Forum.

Simon Toner

Dorothy Borg Postdoctoral Scholar in Southeast Asian Studies

U.S. foreign relations; Vietnam; Cold War East and Southeast Asia; global development

Simon Toner is a historian of the United States and the world, focusing particularly on the history of the American War in Vietnam and U.S. development projects in Cold War East and Southeast Asia. He is currently completing a book manuscript, based primarily on Vietnamese and American archival sources, which explores the final years of the American War in Vietnam as an episode in the history of global development. In particular, it shows how changes in global development thinking and practice in the late 1960s and 1970s shaped debates between and within the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments and had a decisive impact on the course and outcome of the war.

Dr. Toner is a lecturer in modern American history at the University of Sheffield (on leave 2016–2017). He completed his PhD in international history at the London School of Economics in 2015. In the 2015–2016 academic year he was a U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security Postdoctoral Fellow at Dartmouth College. Dr. Toner has received funding from the Society for Historians of U.S. Foreign Relations, the Institute for New Economic Thinking, and the LBJ Foundation.
VISITING SCHOLARS 2016–2017

Yu-Jie Chen
October 2016–August 2017
Research Scholar, New York University
“Improving Relations between China and Taiwan by Promoting Human Rights”

Jung-Shim Lee
September 2015–August 2017
Postdoctoral Researcher, Leiden University
“Buddhist Writers in Colonial Korea: Rethinking Korean Literature, Religion, and History during the Colonial Period, 1910–1945”

Maika Nakao
October 2016–April 2017
Senior Researcher, Ritsumeikan University
“Creating and Communicating Knowledge on Radiation Sickness in Early Post–World War II Japan”

Tao Wang
September 2016–September 2017
Assistant Professor, Institute of Industry Economics, Chinese Academy of Social Science

Guangfeng Yuan
September 2016–September 2017
Lecturer, Nanjing University
“The Politics of Emotion in Public Opinion”

Tao Zhang
January 2016–April 2016
Professor, Sichuan International Studies University
“Confucius’s Landing on American Shores: How Americans Got to Know and Popularized the Chinese Sage”

Qiren Zhou
September 2016–December 2016
LangRun Chair Professor, National School of Development, Peking University
“The Economic Transition in China: Economic Institution Change, Rural Migration, Land System Reform, and Urbanization”

ROBERT M. IMMERMAN PROFESSIONAL FELLOWS 2016–2017

Dong Fu
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
Vice President, Datang International Power Generation Co. Ltd.: Comparative management study on China’s state-owned power companies and American power companies

Guolei Gao
January 1, 2016–December 31, 2016
Vice President, Board Secretary, Shanghai Canature Environmental Products Co. Ltd.: Study on the listing modes and selection of stock exchange for Chinese companies going public in the United States

Masato Ishikawa
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
Police Superintendent, Assistant Director, Japanese Organized Crime Division: Organized crime legislation in the United States for forfeiture of illegal gains from criminal organizations

Hiroyuki Kanno
June 15, 2016–June 14, 2017
Head of Planning and Coordination Division, Bank of Japan: The global financial crisis and the central banks
Hiroki Koike
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
Tax Examiner, Tokyo Regional Taxation Bureau, Ministry of Finance (Japan): The taxation system in the United States and Japan

Shu Liu
August 1, 2016–July 31, 2017
Senior Vice President, Editor-in-Chief, ifeng.com: The impact of the Internet on the renewed debate over key issues in the history of the communist party of China

Haitao Shen
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
President, Shizuishan Bank, Helen Branch: Achievements, existing problems, and corresponding solutions of the internalization of China’s investment banks

Songjie Xiao
January 1, 2017–June 15, 2017
Vice President, Kingswealth Group: Comparative study on real estate development in the United States and China

Ryo Yu
January 1, 2016–December 31, 2016
Founder and President, Hangzhou Jielan Info and Tech Co. Ltd.: “The Future Leads by Mobile Internet: Mobile Internet Regulation in the United States and Its Enlightenment to China”

INSTITUTE ASSOCIATES
2016–2017

Catherine Ruhuei Cheng
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
Secondary Secretary on Home Assignment, Department of International Information Services: “U.S. Foreign Policy toward East Asia: From APEC to TPP, How Taiwan Should Take an Active Role in Regional and Global Economic Integration”

Bin Gu
January 1, 2016–December 31, 2016
Host and Producer, CCTV: Impact of the political system on media in the U.S. and China

Soo Jin Hong
March 15, 2017–March 14, 2018

Jeong Yon Kim
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
Director, Ministry of Patriots and Veterans Affairs: The contribution of the Korean Methodist Church and Institute to the Korean independence movement in the U.S. during Japanese colonial rule

Tomoko Kubota
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
News Anchor, “News 23,” Tokyo Broadcasting System Holdings, Inc.: Power and media independence in Japan

Cleo Lee
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
Chief Executive Officer, Dragon Summit Foundation: “Trends, Challenges, and Opportunities in China’s Film Industry”

Jingyi Ming
January 1, 2017–December 31, 2017
Senior Partner, Beijing Yingke (Shenzhen) Law Firm: Legal and political influence on the globalization of Chinese firms

Mi Jung Park
September 28, 2016–September 27, 2017
Deputy Director, The Chosun Ilbo: Comparative study on media in South Korea and the United States

Dan Qian
January 1, 2016–December 31, 2016
Assistant to the President, Investment Management Dept., China Oceanwide Holdings Group Co. Ltd.: “Globalization and Secularization: A Case Study of the Transformation of Tibetan Thangka Art in Modern Times”

Xing Tang
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
Chairman of the Board/President, China Grouphorse Group Co., Ltd.: Corporate culture and core competence

Jing Wang
September 1, 2016–June 1, 2017
Cofounder, Toread Holdings Group: Corporate social responsibility on Everest

Lingling (Dingge) Zhang
May 20, 2016–May 19, 2017
Correspondent/Columnist/Producer, New Weekly Magazine: New media-based interdisciplinary probe into sexuality, fertility, and marriage of well-educated single fertile women

Xiaoying Zhang
September 1, 2016–January 1, 2017
General Manager, 1921 Interior Design Corporation: “Promoting Endogenous Value of the Securitization of China’s Commercial Property Assets”

Ying Zhou
September 1, 2016–August 31, 2017
Deputy Director, Investment Department, China Huandian Hong Kong Co. Ltd.: Financial risks faced by power enterprises
DOCTORATES AWARDED 2016–2017

Kyoungjin Bae
History: “Joints of Utility, Crafts of Knowledge: The Material Culture of the Sino-British Furniture Trade During the Long Eighteenth Century”

Kuei-min Chang
Political Science: “Spiritual State, Material Temple: The Political Economy of Religious Revival in China”

Jerome Doyon
Political Science: “Rejuvenating Communism: The Communist Youth League as a Political Promotion Channel in Post-Mao China”

Matthieu Felt
East Asian Languages and Cultures: “Re-writing the Past: Reception and Commentary of Nihon Shoki, Japan’s First Official History”

I. Jonathan Kief
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: “Anthropological Fictions: ‘Humanism’ and Its Doubles in 1930s–1960s Korea”

Adam Joseph Kielman
Music: “Zou Qilai!: Musical Subjectivity, Mobility, and Sonic Infrastructures in Postsocialist China”

Diana King

Junpeng Li
Sociology: “The Making of Liberal Intellectuals in Post-Tiananmen China”

Hsin Yi Lin
East Asian Languages and Cultures: “Dealing with Childbirth in Medieval Chinese Buddhism: Discourses and Practices”

Luke Noel Thompson
East Asian Languages and Cultures: “Returning to the Founder: Sakyamuni Devotion in Early Medieval Japan and Japanese Buddhist Conceptions of History”

Pieter Vanhove
Italian and Comparative Literature: “Conceptions of the World: Universalities in Literature and Art after Bandung”

Chelsea Zi Wang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: “Dilemmas of Empire: Movement, Communication, and Information Management in Ming China, 1368–1644”

REBECCA BEST
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Sino-Tibetan history, with a focus on the role of religion; research interests include masked dance, magic, and methods of material history

Stephen Boyanton
Chinese History: Chinese medical history, especially the renaissance of the Han dynasty medical text, The Discourse on Cold Damage, which occurred during the Song dynasty

Tristan Brown
History: “The Veins of the Earth: Property, Environment, and Cosmology in Nanbu County, 1865–1942”

Kevin Buckelew
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Reexamining Tang and Song Chinese Buddhism through the mirror of contemporary Daoist thought and practice, especially with regard to discourses on the body and Buddhist uses of apparently Daoist terms and frameworks

Justin Key Canfil
Political Science: International law; China’s influence on international security regimes

Harlan Chambers
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: The relationship between literature, medicine, and politics from the Yan’an period through the Cultural Revolution, cinema, visual culture, and critical theory

Wilson Chan
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Material culture and the history of science of early modern China

JM Chris Chang
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Petitions and eulogies from the
Kuei-min Chang
Political Science: “The Politics of Religious Revival in China: Differentiated Domination and Political Subject Formation”

Chang Ti-Kai
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Spectatorship and exhibition modes in Chinese and East Asian film culture

Chang Tsaiwei
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Chinese Literature: Chinese cinema, drama, and visual cultures; Taiwanese documentary and East Asian film culture during the colonial period

Yi-Hsiang Chang
History: Early Qing legal reform and the development of judges

Glenda Chao
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Archaeology of the Bronze Age in southern China

John Chen
History: Twentieth-century international and global history, focusing on Chinese foreign policy, the impact and perception of Sino-Soviet competition in the Third World, and the Middle East’s interactions with the Soviet Union and China

Li Chi
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Modern Chinese literature and cinema, with interests in critical theory, and Buddhism

Kumhee Cho
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Korean diasporas and the experiences of the North Korean community in Japan

Eunsung Cho
History: North and South Korean histories in relation to a larger context of modern world history; investigating the ways in which North Korea constructed its nationalist (Juche) socialism in the process of building an independent modern nation-state

H. Seung Cho
Political Science: U.S.-China relations and their impact on East Asia’s institutional architecture and regional order, East Asian security, Chinese culture of diplomacy

Jae Won Chung
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Literary and film representations of racial difference in modern Korea and its diaspora

Andre Deckrow
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Pre–World War II Japanese migration to Brazil

Nina Duthie
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Pre-modern Chinese literature, with a focus on historical texts and cultural history of the Han through Tang dynasties; the representation of barbarians and wildernesses in Northern and Southern dynasties’ historiography

Clay Eaton
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: The Japanese occupation of Singapore and British Malaya during the Second World War and the lasting effects thereof

Chloe Estep
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Modern Chinese literature, poetics, and semiotics; translation theory and practice

Sau-yi Fong
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Intersection of military history, intellectual history, and the history of science and technology, with a focus on late imperial gunpowder technology, the manufacture of armaments, and literati conceptions of war and violence in Qing China

Noga Ganany
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: The dynamics between literature and religion in late imperial China, as well as the evolution of recurring themes in Chinese literature and popular culture

James Gerien-Chen
History: The intellectual and cultural history of early twentieth-century Japan and colonial Taiwan; Japanese imperialism in Taiwan, south China, and the South Seas

Aaron Glasserman
History: Islam in late imperial and modern China and Chinese Muslims’ relationship with the state

Tenggeer Hao
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: The social history of architecture in Japan

Michelle L. Hauk
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: The social history of architecture in Japan

Gavin Healy
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Qing legal history, the role of law in the social and cultural life of early modern China, and the adoption and adaptation of Chinese legal codes and procedures in Chosŏn Korea

Han-Peng Ho
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Early China, focusing on the conceptualization, use, and development of land, and its social, economic, and administrative implications in the Zhou period
Tracy Howard
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The religious history of 18th- to 20th-century eastern Tibet; the importance of poetic songs of religious experience in Tibet

Mary Huang
Political Science: “Social Protection under Authoritarianism: the Politics and Policy of Social Health Insurance in China”

Yuki Ishida
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Japanese Literature: The intersection of intellectual history and literature in 20th-century Japan, the problematics of fiction in modern Japanese literary and intellectual discourse

Nan Jiang
Social Work: Aging welfare policies, intergenerational relationships, long-term care, and economics of caregiving in China

Colin Jones
History: Modern Japanese intellectual history, with a special focus on theories of Asian regionalism in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries

Maxim Korolkov
History: Chinese History: The administrative organization and economic management in the early Chinese empire of Qin (221-210 BC), possible implications of the existing theories of social power and anthropological research on the construction of value in various societies for the interpretation of the ancient Chinese paleographic documents

Alexander Kaplan-Reyes
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Male-male sexuality during the 16th and 17th centuries and how fragmented political and cultural authority during the Warring States Period created spaces for experimentation that in turn influenced normative male-male sexual practices and behavior during the Edo period

Jeewon Kim
Art History and Archaeology: “The Colonial Salon as Contact Zone: Modern Painting in 20th-Century Korea”

Sujung Kim
Japanese and Korean Religion: Contextualizing the cult of Buddhist deity Shinra Myojin by examining historical records, temple chronicles, ritual texts, and iconography of the deity

Yong-ha Kim
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Analyzing China’s first empires, the Qin and the Han, from the perspective of the Warring States Period

Benjamin Kindler
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The relationship between new literary productions emerging in Chinese urban centers during the 1930s, and the development of new concepts of the body and hygiene

Ekaterina Komova
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The history and development of linguistic thought as well as the interrelation between linguistic processes such as grammatical and semantic broadening and their effect on the evolution and aestheticization of certain poetic and literary concepts

Chien Wen Kung
History: Forms of transnational anti-Communist networking in Asia during the 1950s to 1960s, including, but not limited to, organizations such as the Asian Peoples’ Anti-Communist League and the World Anti-Communist League

Ling-Wei Kung
History: Tibetan and Chinese History: Transregional legal practices and economic exchanges among Tibet, Mongolia, Xinjiang, and late imperial China; the history of Inner Asian peoples between the Qing and Russian Empires

Ulug Kuzuoglu
History: “Xinjiang from a Global Perspective: Pan-Islamism and Pan-Asianism in the Making of Xinjiang”

Nicole Kwoh
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: The politics of cultural property for illicit transactions in the market for antiques from the Qing dynasty into Republican China

Jessica JungMin Lee
Teachers College: Anthropology and education

Lei Lei
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Modern Chinese literature, intellectual history, and history of science

Hanzhang Liu
Political Science: The impact of upward mobility generated by elite recruitment on authoritarian regime survival, focusing on the civil service examination in contemporary China

Peng Liu
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Ming-Qing literature and Chinese Buddhist hagiography of the medieval period

Stacy Lo
Anthropology: Cultural anthropology of Beijing

Weiwei Luo
History: Early Modern Chinese history: The lived mysticism of people’s economic activities, legal disputes, institution building, and congregation making

Yuching Luo
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Song popular religious texts, medieval ritual performance, and cross-cultural mortuary traditions

Abigail MacBain
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Early Japanese religion and history; Buddhism in mainland Asia

Ryan Martin
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Vernacular architecture and its reflection of a local response to broad social changes

Neil McGee
East Asian Languages and Cultures: “Mysterious Teachings: Daoism in South China under the Mongols”

Gabriel McNeill
East Asian Languages and Cultures: “Regalia in History and Myth: Significant Objects in the Legitimation of Rulers in Premodern Japan”

Antonio J. Mendoza
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: The development of plastic and cosmetic surgery in China from the early to mid-twentieth century

Maho Miyazaki
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Premodern Japanese literature, with a special interest in Noh plays

Peter Moody
History: Korean History: The cultural and intellectual history of modern Korea and Japan; the evolution of the discourse of tradition vs. modern during the colonial and postwar periods; neo-traditionalism in North Korea

Jack Neubauer
History: The history of migration, cultural exchange, and diplomatic relations between the United States and China; the historical connections between intimate relations and international relations

Elizabeth Reynolds
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The crossovers of economic history and material culture between China and Tibet from the 17th to 19th century

Komei Sakai
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The religious iconography of Japanese arms and armor from the Kamakura period, with an emphasis on the engraving on sword blades related to the worship of Fudō Myō-ō

Shana Roberts
Teachers College: Applied anthropology

Thomas Ryan
History: Korean and international history

Katherine Sargent
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Japanese history

John Thompson
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: The history of death and cemeteries in North China

Norashiqin Toh
Political Science: International relations; Southeast Asian politics

Phuong Ngo
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Japanese literature, especially Heian literature and popular culture

Tzu-Chi Ou
Anthropology: China

Carolyn Pang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The liturgical texts of Onmyōdō (The Way of Yin and Yang) in Premodern Japan

Joshua Rogers
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Surrealism in post-war Japanese narratives; Japanese literature written by non-Japanese authors; comparative approaches to contemporary literature

Katherine Sargent
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Japanese history

Yiwen Shen
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Classical Japanese history; medieval narrative prose

Qichen (Barton) Qian
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Sino-Tibetan history and esoteric Buddhism from the 17th to 20th century

Komei Sakai
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The religious iconography of Japanese arms and armor from the Kamakura period, with an emphasis on the engraving on sword blades related to the worship of Fudō Myō-ō

Eun Kyong Shin
Sociology: Comparative/historical sociology, collective action and social movements, social network analysis, political sociology, colonial and modern Korea

Elizabeth Reynolds
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The crossovers of economic history and material culture between China and Tibet from the 17th to 19th century

Riga Shakya
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Classical and contemporary Tibetan literature and the history of Sino-Tibetan relations

Yiwen Shen
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Classical Japanese history; medieval narrative prose

Carolyn Pang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The liturgical texts of Onmyōdō (The Way of Yin and Yang) in Premodern Japan

Joshua Rogers
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Surrealism in post-war Japanese narratives; Japanese literature written by non-Japanese authors; comparative approaches to contemporary literature

Katherine Sargent
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Japanese history

Riga Shakya
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Classical and contemporary Tibetan literature and the history of Sino-Tibetan relations

Joe Scheier-Dolberg
Art History: Chinese painting and calligraphy; Chinese decorative objects; modern contemporary ink painting in China

Stacey Shaw
Social Work: Health education

Norashiqin Toh
Political Science: International relations; Southeast Asian politics

Tzu-Chi Ou
Anthropology: China

Carolyn Pang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The liturgical texts of Onmyōdō (The Way of Yin and Yang) in Premodern Japan

Joshua Rogers
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Surrealism in post-war Japanese narratives; Japanese literature written by non-Japanese authors; comparative approaches to contemporary literature

Eun Kyong Shin
Sociology: Comparative/historical sociology, collective action and social movements, social network analysis, political sociology, colonial and modern Korea

Katherine Sargent
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Japanese history

John Thompson
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: The history of death and cemeteries in North China

Myra Sun
East Asian Languages and Cultures: "Cover to Cover: Editing, Authorship, and the Media Making of New Literature in Republican China, 1916–1937"

Stacey Shaw
Social Work: Health education

Sonam Tsering
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Buddhist

Qichen (Barton) Qian
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Sino-Tibetan history and esoteric Buddhism from the 17th to 20th century

Katherine Sargent
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Japanese history

Joshua Schlachet
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Nineteenth-century Japanese cultural and culinary history, specifically the history of nourishment and dietary health in the late-Edo and Meiji period margins

Myra Sun
East Asian Languages and Cultures: "Cover to Cover: Editing, Authorship, and the Media Making of New Literature in Republican China, 1916–1937"
dhist thought and philosophy in Tibet in the late 14th century

Chih-Yu Twu
Anthropology: Subnational borders between Hong Kong and China

A.J. van der Meer
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Meiji-period literature in Japan, with a specific focus on the novels of Natsume Soseki

Jeffrey Tyler Walker
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Japanese agrarian literature (nōminbungaku) of the early 20th century

Shih-han Wang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The history of early China, especially as reflected in material culture

Yijun Wang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Changing customs in eighteenth- and nineteenth-century China; the transitions, reproduction, formalization, and codification of customs in everyday life

Oliver White
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Pre-modern Japanese literature

Andrew Wortham
Teachers College—Anthropology of Education: Emerging LGBT communities in China

Dongming Wu
History: The integrity of the Zhou state and complexity of the border regions in 1045–771 BC, as shown by archaeological evidence

Xiong Lu
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The rise of the novel as a literary genre in modern China

Laura Wing Mei Yan
History: “Colonial Port City to ‘Global City’: Dubai and Singapore, 1901-1979”

Zi Yan
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Modern Chinese literature, urban culture, and the relationship between the history of material and science and modern Chinese literature

Chung-Wei Yang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Fiction and drama in the late imperial period, highlighting the interplay among different genres, from Ming-Qing fiction and drama to the films of the Republican period

Yingchaun Yang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Social history, cultural history, and the history of science, especially of radio, in modern China

Yuan Ye
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Publishing and the lives and cultures of the literati in late imperial China

Yuan Yi
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Modern Chinese history; business and economic history, with an emphasis on the production, circulation, and consumption of textiles

Sun Yoo
History: Pre-modern Korean history; the cultural history of the Chosŏn dynasty through literary and material culture

Liya Yu
Political Science: Identity politics and intercultural perspectives of the history of political thought; democratization in East Asia; the rise of Christianity in China

Tinghua Yu
Political Science: Chinese politics and formal political economy with a focus on bureaucracy and federalism

Chi Zhang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: “Popular and Elite Views of China in Japanese Medieval and Early Modern Literature”

Jing Zhang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: The interactions between science and technology, late imperial/early modern Chinese literature, modern Chinese poetry, colonialism, and literature in East Asia

Michelle Zhang
Teachers College: Ethnography of migrant youth culture in Beijing

Yifan Zhang
East Asian Languages and Cultures: Pre-modern Chinese literature, with a focus on the Ming-Qing period

Yurou Zhong
East Asian Languages and Cultures and History: Medicine and science, Cold War politics, China’s relations with the Middle East and North African countries in the postcolonial world
STUDIES OF THE WEATHERHEAD EAST ASIAN INSTITUTE

The Studies of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute is a series sponsored by the Institute and directed by Professors Carol Gluck, Theodore Hughes, Eugenia Lean, Lien-Hang Nguyen, and Gray Tuttle. The aim of this series is to bring to light new scholarship on modern and contemporary East Asia. The series, begun in 1962, now comprises more than 180 titles by scholars from all over the world, including from Columbia University. The studies are published individually by a variety of university and trade presses. Eleven titles were published during the 2016–2017 academic year:

Cook, Alexander C.

Godart, G. Clinton

Greitens, Sheena Chestnut

Igarashi, Yoshikuni

Jaundrill, D. Colin

Kim, Charles R.

Ko, Dorothy

Koga, Yukiko

Makimura, Yasuhiro

Wu, Yi

ASIA PERSPECTIVES: NEW HORIZONS IN ASIAN HISTORY, SOCIETY, AND CULTURE

This series, published by Columbia University Press, was inaugurated in 2000. Under the directorship of Carol Gluck at the Institute and Jennifer Crewe at Columbia University Press, the series includes books on Asian subjects that cross the usual boundary between scholarly monographs and more encompassing general works. The series aims to satisfy the educated general reader as well as the classroom reader in providing texts that are serious but not narrow, substantial but synthetic. Two titles were published in the 2016–2017 academic year:

Keene, Donald

Lucken, Michael
WEATHERHEAD BOOKS ON ASIA

This series, initiated in 2001 and currently published by Columbia University Press, is designed to produce and publish high-quality translations of works in Asian languages intended for scholars, students, and the interested general reader. The series editors are David D. W. Wang, Edward C. Henderson Professor of Chinese Literature, Harvard University, for fiction; and Carol Gluck, George Sansom Professor of History, for history, society, and culture. Three titles were published during the 2016–2017 academic year:

Kobo, Abe

Manshik, Ch’ae

Mun-Yol, Yi

WORKS BY INSTITUTE FACULTY AND SCHOLARS

Anderer, Paul

Armstrong, Charles K.

Asen, Daniel

Bartlett, Nicholas

Calichman, Richard F.

Gao, Qin

Gluck, Carol

Kendall, Laurel

Koga, Yukiko

Kim, Samuel S.

Ko, Dorothy

Liu, Lydia H.

Louzon, Victor

Lu, Yao

McCargo, Duncan

Nathan, Andrew J.

Nguyen, Lien-Hang

Rossabi, Morris

Schramm, Ronald

Shirane, Haruo

Toner, Simon

Wei, Shang-Jin

Weinstein, David E.

Wishnick, Elizabeth

WEAI RESEARCH PROGRAMS

Center for Korean Research

The Center for Korean Research (CKR) was established in 1988. Theodore Hughes became the director in 2013. The Center’s goal is to encourage Korean studies at Columbia by developing new courses on Korea, promoting research concerning Korea in all disciplines, sponsoring a regular seminar on contemporary Korean affairs, assisting in expanding Columbia’s Korean library holdings, and stimulating comparative research involving Korea within Columbia’s large East Asian studies community.

http://ckr.weai.columbia.edu/

In 2016-2017, CKR organized the following events:

Workshops and Conferences

October

14 Critical Studies in Modern Korean Literature and Culture, 1945-1980: Creating the Groundwork for a Cooperative/Reciprocal System between South Korea and the United States to Promote Research on Modern Korean Literature and Culture. Jinsoo Ahn, UC Berkeley; Steven Chung, Princeton University; Theodore Hughes, Columbia University; Kelly Jeong, UC Riverside; Hyunjoo Kim, Yonsei University; Yerim Kim, Yonsei University; Hyeryoung Lee, Sungkyunkwan University; John Lie, UC Berkeley; Kathryn Ragsdale, UC Irvine; Serkbae Suh, UC Irvine; Theodore Jun Yoo, Yonsei University. Organized by the Research Institute for Comparative Culture and Society, Yonsei University, and the Center for Korean Research. Cosponsored by the Yonsei University Institute of Korean Studies, the Sungkyunkwan University Academy of East Asian Studies, the Korea University Research Institute of Korean Studies, the UC Berkeley Center for Korean Studies, and the National Research Foundation of Korea.

April

21-22 Inaugural Workshop on Zainichi Literary Studies. Taieb Berardo, Assistant Professor of French and Francophone Studies, Lehigh University; Jonathan Glade, Assistant Professor of Japanese and Global Studies, Michigan State University; Andre Haag, Assistant Professor of Japanese Literature and Culture, University of Hawaii in Mānoa; Hyunseon Park, SOAS University of London; Chaeeun Lee, The Graduate Center, City University of New York; Sejong Ahn, University of Minnesota; Sohl Lee, State University of New York; Steven Chung, Princeton University; Theodore Hughes, Columbia University; Yvonne L. Young, New York University. Co-sponsored by the Yonsei University Center for Korean Visual Culture, the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, the Academy of Korean Studies, and the Yonsei University Office of Research Affairs.

May

12 Korea, Media, Archive: Rethinking Optics. Chaeeun Lee, The Graduate Center, City University of New York; Hae-in Shin, Vanderbilt University; Han Sang Kim, Rice University; Hye-yoon Kim, University of California, Los Angeles; Hyungji Park, Yonsei University; Hyunseon Park, Yonsei University; Hwajin Lee, Inha University; Jaeho Kang, SOAS University of London; Moonim Baek, Yonsei University; Namhee Han, Leiden University; Olga Fedorenko, Seoul National University; Sejong Ahn, University of Minnesota; Sohl Lee, State University of New York; Steven Chung, Princeton University; Theodore Hughes, Columbia University; Yongwoo Lee, New York University. Cosponsored by the Yonsei University Center for Korean Visual Culture, the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, the Academy of Korean Studies, and the Yonsei University Office of Research Affairs.

June

1 The Asia Foundation and Cold War Culture: A Workshop on Sources, Methods, and Histories. Charles K. Armstrong, Columbia University; Christina Klein, Boston College; Laura Harrington, Boston University; Sangjoon Lee, Nanyang Technical University, Singapore. Cosponsored by the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures.

28 Beyond the ‘San Francisco System: Seeking a Peace Regime in East Asia. Charles Armstrong, Columbia University; Elazar Barkan, Columbia University; Yang Chan, Wuhan University; Alexis Dudden, University of Connecticut; Carol Gluck, Columbia University; Kimie Hara, University of Waterloo; Dekun Hu, Wuhan University; Byung-Joon Jung, Ewha Womans University; Jin-Hyun Kim, World Peace Forum; Young-Ho Kim, The Academy of Korean Studies; Jang-Hie Lee, Hankuk University of Foreign Studies; Fumiaki Nozoe, Okinawa International University; Koh Odagawa, Waseda University; Myung-Lim Park, Yonsei University; Jeong-Ho Roh, Columbia University; Chengyou Song, Peking University; Etsuro Totsuka, Ryukoku University; Haruki Wada, Tokyo University; Daqing Yang, George Washington University; Tae-jin Yi, Seoul National University. Cofounded by The Northeast Asian History Foundation, Seoul Korea. Cosponsored by the Columbia School of International and Public Affairs; the Kim Koo Foundation, Seoul, Korea; and North East Peace Center, Seoul, Korea.

28 The Asia Foundation and Cold War Culture: A Workshop on Sources, Methods, and Histories. Charles K. Armstrong, Columbia University; Elazar Barkan, Columbia University; Yang Chan, Wuhan University; Alexis Dudden, University of Connecticut; Carol Gluck, Columbia University; Kimie Hara, University of Waterloo; Dekun Hu, Wuhan University; Byung-Joon Jung, Ewha Womans University; Jin-Hyun Kim, World Peace Forum; Young-Ho Kim, The Academy of Korean Studies; Jang-Hie Lee, Hankuk University of Foreign Studies; Fumiaki Nozoe, Okinawa International University; Koh Odagawa, Waseda University; Myung-Lim Park, Yonsei University; Jeong-Ho Roh, Columbia University; Chengyou Song, Peking University; Etsuro Totsuka, Ryukoku University; Haruki Wada, Tokyo University; Daqing Yang, George Washington University; Tae-jin Yi, Seoul National University. Cofounded by The Northeast Asian History Foundation, Seoul Korea. Cosponsored by the Columbia School of International and Public Affairs; the Kim Koo Foundation, Seoul, Korea; and North East Peace Center, Seoul, Korea.

28 THE ASIA FOUNDATION AND COLD WAR CULTURE: A WORKSHOP ON SOURCES, METHODS, AND HISTORIES. Charles K. Armstrong, Columbia University; Christina Klein, Boston College; Laura Harrington, Boston University; Sangjoon Lee, Nanyang Technical University, Singapore. Cosponsored by the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures.
Lectures

October

November

10 Let Us Aim High in Creation! A Lecture on North Korean Propaganda Cinema. Anna Broinowski, Filmmaker, Documentary Lecturer, and Author; moderator: Charles K. Armstrong, Korea Foundation Professor of Korean Studies in the Social Sciences, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures.

March

29 North Korea: Where Do We Go from Here? Joel Wit, Senior Research Scholar, Weatherhead East Asian Institute; moderator: Andrew J. Nathan, Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures.

April

12 Film Screening: The Jangmadang Generation. Co-sponsored by SIPA Korea Focus.

Law School and the Society for Korean Legal Studies.

24 Politics of the Stammer, Poetics of Sound: Lee Chonghwa and the Inheritance of Colonial Memory. Brett de Bary, Professor of Comparative Literature and Asian Studies, Cornell University; moderator: Yongwoo Lee, Assistant Professor of East Asian Studies, New York University. Cosponsored by the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures and the Institute for Research on Women, Gender, and Sexuality.

Colloquium Series on Korean Cultural Studies

December
8 Queer Geopolitics: Unsettling Security and Troubling Minority. Ju-Hui Judy Han, Assistant Professor, University of Toronto; moderator: Theodore Hughes, Korea Foundation Associate Professor of Korean Studies in the Humanities, Columbia University.

February
16 Refusing Exile from Kinship? Married Homosexual Men (“Bats”) and the Queering of the South Korean Family. John Song Pae Cho, Assistant Professor, Sarah Lawrence College; moderator: Theodore Hughes, Korea Foundation Associate Professor of Korean Studies in the Humanities, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures; the Institute for Research on Women, Gender, and Sexuality; and the Korea Foundation.

April
7 Literature as a Translational Process: Translation and the Formation of Modern Literatures. Heekyoung Cho, Assistant Professor, University of Washington; moderator: Theodore Hughes, Korea Foundation Associate Professor of Korean Studies in the Humanities, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Korea Foundation and the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures.

Dorothy Borg Research Program

The Dorothy Borg Research Program of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute was established to prepare scholars for the challenge of studying transnational issues involving the United States and East Asia and to explore new conceptual strategies and themes for understanding the study of U.S.–East Asia. The program is named in honor of Dorothy Borg (1902–1993), a historian of United States–East Asia relations whose influence on political scientists like Gerald L. Curtis, Andrew J. Nathan, and Robert Jervis; historians like Carol Gluck; and many others helped bridge the work of history and contemporary analysis.

A central goal of the program is to encourage and support those who might work primarily in either the United States or East Asia to broaden their scope to focus on the transnational and global linkages—and facilitate areas of convergence that can be drawn between the fields of East Asia and the study of the United States—through postdoctoral training opportunities, graduate fellowships, and collaborative grants to support inquiry that crosses geographic, temporal, and/or disciplinary boundaries.

The program is divided into four research projects: America and East Asia: Past and Present (Cochaired by Gerald L. Curtis and Carol Gluck); The Making of the Modern Pacific World (Core Faculty Members: Mae Ngai, Charles Armstrong, and Theodore Hughes); Global Circuits, U.S.–East Asian Archives, and Future Directions (Steering Committee: Eugenia Lean and Professors Haruo Shirane, Gray Tuttle, and Madeleine Zelin); and The United States and Southeast Asia: Past Legacies, Present Issues, and Future Prospects (Cochaired by Professors Duncan McCargo, Ann Marie Murphy, and Amy Freedman). Each project was designed to harmonize with the other three without overlying them. Although the individual projects are divergent in their missions, they are convergent in fulfilling the vision Dorothy Borg had to further U.S.–East Asian studies at Columbia University.

Inner Asia Curricular Development Program

Established in 2015, the Inner Asia Curricular Development Program at Columbia develops materials for teaching and studying Inner Asia, the lands on the eastern fringe of the Eurasian land-bridge that lie mainly within western and northern China, with Mongolia, Inner Mongolia, Xinjiang, and Tibet at their core.

The program is part of a drive to emphasize the regional approach within area studies, encouraging geographic specialists to think in terms of larger contexts, beyond political borders, and to examine flows of people, ideas, resources, cultures, topography, and trade that connect peoples to their neighbors and beyond. In particular, it aims—by combining experts in the area with those trained in broader disciplinary approaches—to find productive ways to integrate the study of local histories, societies, environments, and economies with the study of larger global trends.

Modern Tibetan Studies Program

Columbia’s Modern Tibetan Studies Program, established in 1999, was the first program in the West dedicated to teaching about the society, history, and culture of modern Tibet. It provides a range of courses and programs for undergraduate and graduate students who want to focus on modern Tibet studies; supports and carries out research on modern Tibetan society, history, and culture; runs study programs, educational projects, and conferences in close collaboration with other institutions and scholars in the United States and abroad; organizes exchange visits with Tibetan and Chinese scholars from Tibet and elsewhere; and has an ongoing program of public activities in New York.

The faculty, research scholars, and staff in the Modern Tibetan Studies Program are Gray Tuttle, who holds the Leila Hadley Luce Chair of Modern Tibetan Studies;
Robert Barnett, director of the program; Lauran Hartley, Tibetan Studies librarian at Columbia; and Sonam Tsering, lecturer in modern Tibetan language. The program works closely with Robert Thurman, professor of Indo-Tibetan studies at Columbia, and Paul Hackett, instructor in classical Tibetan language and Sanskrit.

In spring 2004, the Modern Tibetan Studies Program was awarded a $3 million gift from the Henry Luce Foundation to establish the world’s first chair in modern Tibetan studies. Gray Tuttle, the current holder of the chair, is an expert in modern Tibetan history and Sino-Tibetan relations since the seventeenth century.

The program, in cooperation with Columbia’s Departments of Religion and of East Asian Languages and Cultures, offers instruction in both modern and classical Tibetan language; it also provides courses, at both the graduate and undergraduate level, that cover Tibetan history from the seventeenth to the twentieth century, material culture, contemporary Tibetan art, history, politics and culture, biography, film, and other topics. Recent courses have included nineteenth- and twentieth-century Tibetan history, modern Tibetan literature, film and television in Inner Asia, Sino-Tibetan relations, and oral history in Tibet.

Tibetan studies can be taken as a part of the Core Curriculum requirement for undergraduates, and modern Tibetan studies can be chosen as a concentration within the MA degrees in East Asian Studies, in International Affairs, or in Regional Studies-East Asia (MARSEA). At the PhD level, students can specialize in modern Tibetan studies within the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures.

The program includes the Tibet Ecotourism Training Project, which organizes training workshops and visits for Tibetans in the tourism sector in Tibet; Tibet Web Digest, a survey of Tibetan blog writings; and the Gyu-cha site, which provides a range of online materials for Tibetan studies. It is linked to other Tibet studies initiatives in the New York City area, including the Latse Contemporary Tibetan Culture Library, the Rubin Museum of Art, the Jacques Marchais Museum of Tibetan Art, and the Newark Museum, as well as to other universities in the United States and Europe; and it has an exchange relationship with the Central Minzu (Nationalities) University in Beijing.

The Modern Tibetan Studies Program is part of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute’s initiative to include the borderlands of China and the frontiers of Inner and Central Asia in the American map of knowledge about East Asia. Together with the Harriman Institute at Columbia, the program is part of the Inner Asia Curricular Development Program, which develops materials and resources to enhance teaching about the broader Inner Asian and Central Asian regions.

http://weai.columbia.edu/modern-tibetan-studies-program/

In 2016–2017, the Modern Tibetan Studies Program sponsored the following events:

September

27 From Story to Script: Translating Pema Tseden’s Tharlo to the Screen. Pema Tseden, Director and Writer; Jessica Yeung, Translator of the Novella; moderator: Ying Qian, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Film Program in the School of the Arts, Columbia University.

October

27 At Snow Mountain Labtse: Social Critique in Tibetan Comedy from Amdo. Timothy Thurston, Smithsonian Institution.

November

1 Status and Power of the Fifth Dalai Lama and His Government: Tracking Down the Line between Fiction and Fact. Peter Schwieger, Rauchofen Professor of Tibetology, University of Bonn; moderator: Gray Tuttle, Leila Hadley Luce Associate Professor of Modern Tibetan Studies, Columbia University.

29 The Neighborhood Committee No. 3 Archive: Primary Sources on “Democratic Reform” in Lhasa, 1959–60. Matthew Akester, Author and Translator; introduction by Lauran Hartley, Tibetan Studies Librarian, Columbia University.

29 Xinjiang Studies: The Third Wave. Peter Perdue, Professor of Chinese History, Yale University; introduced by Madeleine Zelin, Dean Lung Professor of Chinese Studies, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Inner Asia Curriculum Development Project.

February

28 Tharchin Babu: A Mirror of the World from the Frontier. Tsering Shakya, Associate Professor and Canada Research Chair in Religion & Contemporary Society in Asia, University of British Columbia; remarks by: Lauran Hartley, Tibetan Studies Librarian, C.V. Starr East Asian Library; Ann D. Thornton, Vice Provost and University Librarian, Columbia University; Robert Barnett, Director, Modern Tibetan Studies Program; Jim Cheng, Director, C.V. Starr East Asian Library; Gray Tuttle, Leila Hadley Luce Associate Professor of Modern Tibetan Studies, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the C.V. Starr East Asian Library and the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures.
March

April

27 Mongolia’s Agenda and Role at the UN. His Excellency Sukhbold Sukhee, Ambassador of Mongolia to the United Nations. Presented by Modern Tibetan Studies with the Mongolia Club of Columbia University and the Inner Asia Curriculum Project.

May
4 The Enclave. Li Wei, Independent Documentary Director; moderator: Ying Qian, Assistant Professor of East Asian Languages and Cultures, Columbia University.

Toyota Research Program
The Toyota Research Program of Columbia University’s Weatherhead East Asian Institute began in 1979 with the generous support of the Toyota Motor Company. An additional grant was received in 2012 to continue the activities of the program under the directorship of Gerald L. Curtis. The program provides support for advanced graduate student and faculty research on issues related to contemporary Japan and U.S.-Japan relations. The program also sponsors a series of research lunches and dinners that provide scholars with the opportunity to exchange views with members of other institutions, government officials, business executives, and diplomats working on East Asian issues.

AFFILIATED COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY CENTERS

APEC Study Center
Columbia University established the APEC Study Center in 1994 at the request of the U.S. Department of State in response to the APEC Leaders’ Education Initiative, introduced by President Clinton and endorsed by the leaders of the other APEC member nations at their historic meetings on Blake Island and in Seattle in November 1993. This initiative calls on institutions of higher education in the United States and throughout the Asia Pacific to collaborate on Asia Pacific policy research and—through exchanges, joint research, conferences, and other contacts—to help establish an emerging region-wide network of personal and institutional relationships for all member economies.

Contact information:
APEC Study Center
Columbia University
3022 Broadway
2M-9 Uris Hall
New York, NY 10027-7004
Tel: 212-854-3976
Fax: 212-851-9508
http://www8.gsb.columbia.edu/apec/

Center for Chinese Legal Studies
Established in 1983 by Professor Emeritus R. Randle Edwards, the center is now directed by Professor Benjamin Liebman. It serves as the focal point for China-related curricular, extracurricular, and exchange activities that attract students and scholars from all over the world to Columbia Law School. The center prepares students to take on leadership roles in Chinese law and provides them with the skills and knowledge they need to succeed in China’s rapidly changing legal environment while serving as a bridge to the Chinese legal community.

Contact information:
Center for Chinese Legal Studies
Columbia Law School, Box A-28
435 West 116th Street
New York, NY 10027
Tel: 212-854-0685
web.law.columbia.edu/chinese-legal-studies

Center for Japanese Legal Studies
The Center for Japanese Legal Studies, directed by Professor Curtis J. Milhaupt (Columbia Law School, 1989), was established in 1980 with financial support from the Fuyo Group (a group of leading Japanese companies) and the Japan-U.S. Friendship Commission. The center administers a range of research-oriented, programmatic, and informal programs designed to enhance understanding of the Japanese legal system. It also maintains extensive ties with the Weatherhead East Asian Institute and the Center on Japanese Economy and Business. Currently, the center is expanding its activities to reflect the dynamic process of legal reform underway in Japan—reforms that touch upon virtually every aspect of Japanese society.

Contact information:
Center for Japanese Legal Studies
Columbia Law School, Box A-28
435 West 116th Street
New York, NY 10027-7004
Tel: 212-854-0685
web.law.columbia.edu/japanese-legal-studies
Center for Korean Legal Studies
The Center for Korean Legal Studies was founded in 1994 with funding from The Korea Foundation and the Hankook Tire Group. Columbia Law School is proud to be the first law school in the United States to have a center dedicated to studying issues in Korean law and regulations. Directed by Jeong-ho Roh, the center encourages research and teaching in Korean law and the Korean legal system. Visiting scholars to the center include Korean lawyers, judges, and government and company officials.

Contact information:
Center for Korean Legal Studies
Columbia Law School
MC 4024, Box A-19
435 West 116th Street
New York, NY 10027
Tel: 212-854-5759
Fax: 212-854-4980
http://www.law.columbia.edu/korean-legal-studies

Center on Japanese Economy and Business
Established at Columbia Business School in 1986 under the direction of Professor Hugh Patrick, the Center on Japanese Economy and Business (CJEB) promotes knowledge and understanding of Japanese business and economics in an international context. The center is a research organization widely recognized for its international programs, which provide prominent speakers from the public and private sectors a forum for collaboration and reflection on Japan, the United States, and the global economy.

In support of its mission, CJEB organizes and supports research projects, workshops, symposia, conferences, scholarly and professional exchanges, and library and computer-based resource initiatives.

Contact information:
Center on Japanese Economy and Business
Columbia Business School
3022 Broadway
2M-9 Uris Hall
New York, NY 10027
Tel: 212-854-3976
Fax: 212-854-4980
www8.gsb.columbia.edu/cjeb/

C.V. Starr East Asian Library
The C.V. Starr East Asian Library holds the third largest collection for the study of East Asia in North America, with more than 1.8 million items of Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Tibetan, Mongol, Manchu, and Western-language materials and more than 8,500 periodical titles. The collection is particularly strong in Chinese history, literature, and social sciences; Japanese literature, history, and religion, particularly Buddhism; and Korean history. The Kress Special Collections Reading Room provides access to the rare book and special collections, which are especially strong in Chinese local histories and genealogies, Japanese Edo period woodblock printed books, the Makino Collection in East Asian film studies, and the Korean Yi Song-yi Collection of rare books, as well as collections of ancient Chinese oracle bones, Chinese paper gods from the early twentieth century, signed first editions of modern Japanese authors, and Edo-period ukiyo-e. The library’s microfilm collection is also extensive; and its East Asian Film Collection focuses on early Korean and Japanese feature films and documentaries and on contemporary Chinese feature films, documentaries, television series, local operas, and martial arts, with more than 6,000 newly acquired DVD titles. Online records have been created for almost all of the collection.

Contact information:
C.V. Starr East Asian Library
Columbia University
300 Kent Hall, MC 3901
1140 Amsterdam Avenue
New York, NY 10027
Tel: 212-854-4318
http://library.columbia.edu/locations/eastasian.html

Donald Keene Center of Japanese Culture
Founded in 1986, the center is named for Columbia’s internationally renowned scholar of Japanese literature. The primary goal of the center is to advance understanding of Japan and Japanese culture in the United States through university instruction, research, and public outreach.

Contact information:
Donald Keene Center of Japanese Culture
Columbia University
507 Kent Hall, MC 3920
1140 Amsterdam Avenue
New York, NY 10027-7004
Tel: 212-854-5036
Fax: 212-854-4019
www.keenecenter.org

AFFILIATED ORGANIZATION

New York Southeast Asia Network
Columbia University serves as host of the New York Southeast Asia Network (NYSEAN). Created in 2015 and generously supported by the Luce Foundation, NYSEAN is a nonprofit organization that aims to promote mutual understanding and forge partnerships among individuals, groups, and institutions of New York and Southeast Asia. It seeks to create a community of scholars, thought leaders, practitioners, professionals, and students across the fields of policy, business, and the arts to generate fresh ideas for collaboration in addressing present-day challenges in the region. Working with partners at New York University and Seton Hall University, NYSEAN sponsors approximately 30 events annually in the greater New York area.

http://www.nysean.org
LECTURE SERIES

Modern Taiwan Lecture Series 2016
Cosponsored by the Department of Anthropology

September

6 Taiwan in Imperial China (Qing Dynasty). Robert B. Gardella, U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

13 Historical Roots of Modern Taiwan: 17th-Century Formations. Xing Hang, Brandeis University.

20 Japanese Colonial Rule in Taiwan. Seiji Shirane, City College of New York.

October

4 Parties and Politics in Contemporary Taiwan. Shelley Rigger, Davidson College.

11 Economic and Social Transformations in the Making of Present-Day Taiwan. Jonathan Brookfield, Fletcher School, Tufts University.

18 Taiwan Literature. Leo Ching, Duke University.

November

1 Taiwan’s Feminist Movement and the Changing Role of Women. Anru Lee, John Jay College/CUNY.

15 The Family and Demographic Revolutions in Taiwan. Ying-Chang Chuang, Institute of Ethnology, Academia Sinica.

22 Native Peoples of Taiwan in Present-Day Society. Scott Simon, University of Ottawa.

29 Taiwan’s Popular Culture and Its Impact on China, East Asia, and Beyond. Marc Moskowitz, University of South Carolina.

December

6 Taiwan as a Global Actor: Regional Economic Ties and International Participation. Vincent Wang, Ithaca College.

Studies of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute Lecture Series on Japan

September

20 The Knowledge of Nature and the Nature of Knowledge in Early Modern Japan. Federico Marcon, Associate Professor of Japanese History, Princeton University; moderator: Carol Gluck, George Sansom Professor of History, Columbia University.

October

25 Samurai to Soldier: Remaking Military Service in Nineteenth-Century Japan. D. Colin Jaundrill, Associate Professor of History, Providence College; moderator: Gregory Pflugfelder, Associate Professor of Japanese History, Columbia University.

November

15 Casualties of History: Wounded Japanese Servicemen and the Second World War. Lee K. Pennington, Associate Professor of History, United States Naval Academy; moderator: Paul Kreitman, Assistant Professor of Japanese History, Columbia University.

March

7 Homecomings: The Belated Return of Japan’s Lost Soldiers. Yoshikuni Igarashi, Professor of History, Vanderbilt University; moderator: Carol Gluck, George Sansom Professor of History, Columbia University.

U.S. Presidential Election: The View from Japan Lecture Series

December

January

19 U.S. Presidential Election: The View from Japan—The Impact on Japanese Politics. Satoshi Machidori, Professor, Kyoto University; moderator: Takako Hikotani, Gerald L. Curtis Visiting Associate Professor of Modern Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Center on Japanese Economy and Business.

23 U.S. Presidential Election: The View from Japan—The Future of the U.S.-Japan Alliance. Toshihiro Nakayama, Professor, Keio University; moderator: Gerald L. Curtis, Burgess Professor Emeritus of Political Science, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Center on Japanese Economy and Business.

ARTS AND CULTURE PROGRAMS

September

15 The Tangled Dynamics of Independent Filmmaking in China: Memory, Identity, and Protest. Paul G. Pickowicz, Distinguished Professor of History and Chinese Studies, University of California, San Diego; moderator: Ying Qian, Assistant Professor of East Asian Languages and Cultures, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures; the C.V. Starr East Asian Library/ Dragon Summit Endowment Fund; and the MA Program in Film Studies, School of the Arts.
October

12 Ge Fei in New York: On the Translation of His Novel The Invisibility Cloak. Ge Fei, Author; Canaan Morse, Translator; moderator: Lydia H. Liu, Wun Tsun Tam Professor in the Humanities, Columbia University.

27 Kurosawa’s Rashomon: A Vanished City, a Lost Brother, and the Voice Inside His Iconic Films. Paul Anderer, Fred and Fannie Mack Professor of Humanities, Columbia University; moderator: James Shapiro, Larry Miller Professor of English, Columbia University. Cosponsored by Book Culture.

November

1 The Memory Project. Jane Gaines, Columbia University; Lydia H. Liu, Columbia University; Liu Xiaolei, Film Director; Richard Peña, Columbia University; Wu Wenguang, Film Director; Ying Qian, Columbia University; Zhang Mengqi, Film Director; Zhang Ping, Film Director. Cosponsored by the Institute for Comparative Literature and Society; the C.V. Starr East Asian Library; the MA Program in Film and Media Studies, Columbia University; and the Confucius Institute at Columbia University.

10 Iron Moon and Working Class Poetry in China. Qin Xiaoyu, Filmmaker; Chen Nianxi, Poet; Ou Ning, Artist; Wu Feiyue, Filmmaker; moderator: Ying Qian, Columbia University.

29 The Camera for Social Change: Photographic Art in Contemporary China. Bao Kun, Photographer and Critic. Cosponsored by the Huang/Lin Fund, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, the C.V. Starr East Asian Library, the Confucius Institute, Columbia Global Centers | East Asia, and the Program in Chinese Literature and Culture.

April

18 Memories of the Kyoto Cyclotron. Maika Nakao, Film Director; Carol Gluck, George Sansom Professor of History, Columbia University; Paul Kreitman, Assistant Professor of Japanese History, Columbia University.
May

1 Family Album: 100 Chinese Family Stories Uncovered. Yuhong Li, Documentary Filmmaker; Senior Research Associate, City University of Hong Kong; moderator: Peter E. Hamilton, Dorothy Borg Postdoctoral Scholar in the Making of the Modern Pacific World, Weatherhead East Asian Institute.

8 Pacific Overtures: A Panel Discussion about the Celebrated Musical and its 2017 Off-Broadway Revival. George Takei, Actor and Activist; John Weidman, Librettist of Pacific Overtures; Carol Gluck, George Sansom Professor of History, Columbia University; David Hajdu, Professor of Journalism, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Donald Keene Center of Japanese Culture.

BROWN BAG LECTURES

September

21 China and Islam: The Prophet, the Party, and Law. Matthew Erie, Associate Professor of Modern Chinese Studies, University of Oxford; moderator: Madeleine Zelin, Dean Lung Professor of Chinese Studies, Columbia University.

26 The Comeback of Confucius in Modern China. Michael Schuman, Author and Journalist; moderator: Madeleine Zelin, Dean Lung Professor of Chinese Studies, Columbia University.

October

11 Strange Bedfellows: How the United States and China Found Common Purpose on Climate Change. Jackson Ewing, Director of Asian Sustainability, Asia Society Policy Institute; moderator: Elizabeth Wishnick, Professor of Political Science, Montclair State University.

24 What Does the Loss of Yanhuang Chunqiu Mean for China? Weiping Cui, Public Intellectual and Professor, Beijing Film Academy; moderator: Andrew J. Nathan, Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Columbia University.

25 Digital Humanities for Skeptics: A Report from the DHAAsia Program at Stanford University. Tom Mullaney, Associate Professor of Chinese History, Stanford University; moderator: Gray Tuttle, Leila Hadley Luce Associate Professor of Modern Tibetan Studies, Columbia University.

27 The Significance of Guanxi in China Today. Yanjie Bian, Professor of Sociology, University of Minnesota; moderator: Yao Lu, Associate Professor of Sociology, Columbia University.

November

15 Contagion and Food Scares in China: An Agent-Based Model Approach. Benoit Desmarchelier, Assistant Professor in Economics and Management, Xi’an Jiaotong-Liverpool University; moderator: Ronald M. Schramm, Visiting Associate Professor of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Asia Pacific Affairs Council.

18 Population Aging and Elderly Care in China and East Asia. Du Peng, Professor and Director, Institute of Gerontology, Renmin University. Cosponsored by the Robert N. Butler Columbia Aging Center.

22 Governing the Soul of Chinese Modernity. Andrew Kipnis, Professor of Anthropology, the Australian National University; moderator: Myron Cohen, Professor of Anthropology, Columbia University.
December

5 From Colonial Power to Soft Power: Japan’s Cultural Diplomacy in Asia in Historical Perspective. Nissim Otmazgin, Senior Lecturer in Asian Studies, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem; moderator: Kim Brandt, Research Scholar, Weatherhead East Asian Institute.

7 Taiwan’s China Dilemma. Syaru Shirley Lin, Professor of Political Economy, Chinese University of Hong Kong, and Adjunct Professor of Politics, University of Virginia; moderator: Andrew J. Nathan, Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Columbia University.

9 Friendship in a Time of War: Lu Xun and Uchiyama Kanzō. Joshua Fogel, Professor of History, York University; moderator: Eugenia Lean, Director, Weatherhead East Asian Institute, and Associate Professor of Chinese History, Columbia University.

February

13 Constitutional Crisis in Hong Kong: Two Years after the Umbrella Movement. Michael Davis, Reagan-Fascell Democracy Fellow, National Endowment for Democracy; moderator: Andrew J. Nathan, Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Columbia University.

15 Duterte’s Violent “Right” Populism in the Philippines. Mark Thompson, Head, Department of Asian and International Studies, and Director, Southeast Asia Research Centre, City University of Hong Kong; moderator: Alfred Stepan, Wallace S. Sayre Professor of Government Emeritus, Columbia University.

17 Guan Xinbing “Officials’ Heartache”: Depression, Bureaucracy, and Therapeutic Governance in China. Jie Yang, Associate Professor of Anthropology, Simon Fraser University; moderator: Nicholas Bartlett, Assistant Professor in Contemporary Chinese Culture and Society, Barnard College.

28 Debunking the Rumors on Jakarta’s Election. Yuli Ismartono, Chief Editor of English Tempo Magazine; moderator: Duncan McCargo, Visiting Professor of Political Science, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Southeast Asian Student Initiative and NYSEAN.

March

3 “Don’t Fall Off the World”: Armenian Communities in China from the 1880s to the 1950s. Khatchig Mouradian, Nikit and Eleanora Ordjanian Visiting Professor, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Armenian Center at Columbia University.

22 Trump’s Asia Policy: The View from DC. Michael Auslin, Resident Scholar and Director of Japan Studies, American Enterprise Institute; moderator: Andrew J. Nathan, Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Asia Pacific Affairs Council.

23 The Politics of Religion in Postwar Japanese Public School Education. Jolyon Thomas, Assistant Professor of East Asian Languages & Civilizations, University of Pennsylvania; moderator: Sarah Kovner, 24 The Business of Climate Change: Adaptation Finance in Vietnam and Bangladesh. Kimberley Thomas, A.W. Mellon Postdoctoral Fellow, Department of Earth and Environmental Sciences, University of Pennsylvania; moderator: Lien-Hang Nguyen, Dorothy Borg Associate Professor in the History of the United States and East Asia, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Asia Pacific Affairs Council.

27 U.S.-Taiwan Relations under the Trump Administration. Ambassador Raymond Burghardt, Former Chairman of the American Institute in Taiwan; moderator: Andrew J. Nathan, Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Columbia University.

28 Mr. X and the Pacific: George F. Kennan and the Limits of American Policy in East Asia. Paul Heer, Professorial Lecturer in International Affairs, Elliott School of International Affairs, George Washington University; moderator: Elizabeth Wishnick, Senior Research Scholar, Weatherhead East Asian Institute, and Professor of Political Science, Montclair State University.

April

3 How to Get Your Book Published by a University Press. Roger Haydon, Executive Editor, Cornell University Press; moderator: Carol Gluck, George Sansom Professor of History, Columbia University.

3 Clearing Up the Haze: New Research on Southeast Asian Pollution. Ruth DeFries, Professor of Ecology and Sustainable Development, Columbia University; Miriam Marlier, Postdoctoral Research Scientist in the Department of Ecology, Evolution, and Environmental Biology, Columbia University; Tianjia Liu, Student, Columbia College; moderator: Duncan McCargo, Visiting Professor of Political Science, Columbia University.

4 The Business of Handloom Fashion: The Future of Sustainable Dyeing and Weaving Workshops in India and Japan. Annapurna
Mamidipudi, Postdoctoral Researcher, University of Maastricht; Amanda Stinchecum, Research Associate, Reischauer Institute for Japanese Studies, Harvard University; moderator: Dorothy Ko, Professor of History, Barnard College. Cosponsored by the Center for Science and Society.

7 Assessing the Jokowi Administration at the Halfway Mark. Endy Bayuni, Chief Editor, Jakarta Post; moderator: Ann Marie Murphy, Senior Research Scholar, Weatherhead East Asian Institute. Cosponsored by NYSEAN.

11 Japan’s Grand Strategy. Nobukatsu Kanehara, Assistant Chief Cabinet Secretary, Deputy Secretary-General of the National Security Secretariat, Japan; Jack Snyder, Robert and Renee Belfer Professor of International Relations, Columbia University; introduction by Takako Hikotani, Gerald L. Curtis Visiting Associate Professor of Modern Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Columbia School of International and Public Affairs.

18 A Revolution That Was Not: The Tiananmen Movement Revisited. Yang Su, Associate Professor of Sociology, University of California Irvine; moderator: Yao Lu, Associate Professor of Sociology, Columbia University.

20 Qing Law through Ottoman Eyes: Sa’id al-Asali’s Law of China (Qanun al- in). David Brrophy, Associate Research Scholar, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Middle East Institute.

26 Dictators and Their Secret Police: Coercive Institutions and State Violence in South Korea, Taiwan, and the Philippines. Sheena Chestnut Greitens, Assistant Professor of Political Science, University of Missouri; moderator: Andrew J. Nathan, Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Center for Korean Research, SEASI, the Asia Pacific Affairs Council, and NYSEAN.

SPECIAL LECTURES AND PANEL DISCUSSIONS

September

22 Cultural Revolution, Propaganda Art, and Historical Memories. Guobin Yang, University of Pennsylvania; Ying Qian, Columbia University; Chengzhi Wang, C.V. Starr East Asian Library, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the C.V. Starr East Asian Library, the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, and the Dragon Summit Endowment Fund.

October

4 Kuo Ping Wen: Scholar, Reformer, Statesman. York Lo, Harvard University; Yanqiu Zheng, Northwestern University; Ryan M. Allen, Teachers College, Columbia University; Ji Liu, Teachers College, Columbia University; moderator: David Gedalecia, The College of Wooster. Cosponsored by the C.V. Starr East Asian Library; the Columbia University Confucius Institute; Columbia Global Centers; and the Center on Chinese Education, Teachers College.

14 The Museum Boom in China. Steven Holl, Columbia GSAPP; Zhu Pei, Studio Pei; Zhu; Aric Chen, M+ Museum; Jeffrey Johnson, University of Kentucky; Jean Debovoise, Asia Art Archive; Mark Wasútu, Columbia GSAPP; Ou Ning, Columbia GSAPP; Wu Hung, University of Chicago; Alexandra Munroe, Guggenheim Museum; John Rajchman, Columbia University. Cosponsored by Columbia GSAPP.

November

15 From China to Europe: Micro and Macro Dynamics of the New Silk Road. Robert Barnett, Columbia University; Anastas Vangelis, Polish Academy of Sciences; Rune Steenberg, Columbia University; Vasilis Trigkas, Tsinghua University and Columbia University; moderator: Hannah Wang, School of Economics and Management, Tsinghua University. Cosponsored by the Inner Asia Curriculum Development Project and Harriman Institute.

16 Asian Views on America’s Role in Asia. David D. Arnold, President and Chief Executive Officer, The Asia Foundation; Ellen L. Frost, Senior Advisor & Fellow, East West Center; Eugenia Lean, Director, Weatherhead East Asian Institute, Columbia University; Xiaobo Lü, Professor of Political Science, Barnard College; C. Raja Mohan, Director of the India Center, Carnegie Endowment for International Peace; Ann Marie Murphy, Senior Research Scholar, Weatherhead East Asian Institute; Andrew J. Nathan, Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Columbia University; Thitinan Pongsudhirak, Professor and Executive Director, Institute of Security and International Studies, Chulalongkorn University; Steven Wilkinson, Nilekani Professor of India and South Asian Studies, Yale University; Yoon Young-kwan, Professor Emeritus, Seoul National University. Cosponsored by the Columbia School of International and Public Affairs and the Asia Foundation.

January

Europe, and Fellow at New America; moderator: Julie George, Associate Professor of Political Science, Queens College, CUNY. Cosponsored by the Harriman Institute.

February

March
1 The Business of Global Travel. Jane Jie Sun, Chief Executive Officer, Ctrip Group. Cosponsored by the Jerome A. Chazen Institute for Global Business.

6 What’s Next? U.S.-Southeast Asia Relations under the Trump Administration. His Excellency Ashok Kumar Mirpuri, Ambassador of the Republic of Singapore to the United States. Cosponsored by the Asia Pacific Affairs Council and the Southeast Asian Student Initiative.

April
6 Gender Inequality in China: New Evidence and Policy Directions. Qin Gao, Professor of Social Policy and Social Work, Columbia School of Social Work; Xiao-yuan Dong, Professor of Economics, University of Winnipeg; Terry Sicular, Professor of Economics, University of Western Ontario; moderator: Carl Riskin, Distinguished Professor of Economics, Queens College. Cosponsored by the Columbia School of Social Work; the Institute for Research on Women, Gender, and Sexuality at Columbia University; the Columbia Population Research Center; and Columbia Global Centers | East Asia.

17 The Social Life of Inkstones. Dorothy Ko, Professor of History, Barnard College; Pamela Smith, Seth Low Professor of History, Columbia University; Jonathan Hay, Ailsa Mellon Bruce Professor of Fine Arts, New York University. Cosponsored by the Program in Chinese Literature and Culture at Columbia University, the Huang/Lin Fund from the Program in Chinese Literature and Culture, Weatherhead East Asian Institute, The Harriman Institute, The Heyman Center for the Humanities, and the Department of History at Columbia University.

WORKSHOPS AND CONFERENCES
October
7-8 Beyond Circulation: Non-Western Universalisms and Global Histories of Science. Ulug Kuzuoglu, Columbia University; Shehab Ismail, Columbia University; Lan Li, Columbia University; Edna Bonhomme, Princeton University; Chris Gratien, Harvard University; Vanessa Ogle, University of Pennsylvania; Angela Giordani, Columbia University; Elias Saba, University of Pennsylvania; Brinkley Messick, Columbia University; Seçil Yılmaz, Cornell University; John Chen, Columbia University; Projit Mukharji, University of Pennsylvania; Susanna Ferguson, Columbia University; Robert Cole, New York University; Andrew Sartori, New York University; Eugenia Lean, Columbia University; Marwa Elshakry, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Department of History, the Center for Science and Society, the Middle East Institute, the Institute for Social and Economic Research and Policy, and the Institute for Comparative Literature and Society.
21 Comparative Postwars: Japan, Germany, and Elsewhere. Saito Ayako, Meiji Gakuin University; Hitode Tsunbo, International Research Center for Japanese Studies; Narita Ryuichi, Japan Women’s University; Yoshihara Yukari, Tsukuba University; Iwasaki Minoru, Tokyo University of Foreign Studies; Youngran Ko, Nihon University; Osa Shizue, Kobe University; Naoki Watanabe, Musashi University; Franziska Seraphim, Boston College; Henry Rousso, Columbia University/Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique; Carol Gluck, Columbia University; Paul Kreitman, Columbia University; Gregory Pflugfelder, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Weatherhead East Asian Institute and the Donald Keene Center of Japanese Culture.

24 China and Africa at a Crossroads: Revisiting the Legacy of Bandung Humanism. Barry Sautman, Hong Kong University of Science & Technology; Hairong Yan, Hong Kong University of Science & Technology; Jamie Monson, Michigan State University; Rebecca Karl, New York University; Duncan Yoon, University of Alabama; Mahmood Mamdani, Columbia University; Howard French, Columbia Journalism School; Lydia H. Liu, Columbia University; Stathis Gourgouris, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Institute for Comparative Literature and Society, the Center for the Study of Social Difference, and the Institute for African Studies.

November

10 Great Power Rivalries, Domestic Politics, and Southeast Asia Foreign Policy: Implications for the United States. John Brandon, The Asia Foundation; Pongpisut Busbarat, University of Sydney; David Denoon, NYU Center for U.S.-China Relations; Richard Javad Heydarian, De La Salle University, Philippines; Lynn Kuok, Brookings Institution and Harvard Law School; Eugenia Lean, Columbia University; Ann Marie Murphy, Weatherhead East Asian Institute; Andrew J. Nathan, Columbia University; Lien-Hang Nguyen, Columbia University; Elina Noor, Institute for International and Strategic Studies, Malaysia; Yun Sun, The Stimson Center; Emirza Adi Syailendra, S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies; Carlyle Thayer, University of New South Wales and Australian Defence Force Academy; Donald Weatherbee, University of South Carolina. Cosponsored by the APEC Study Center, the New York Southeast Asia Network, the Center for Emerging Powers and Transnational Trends at Seton Hall University, and the Dorothy Borg Research Program.

December

2 Sounding China in the World: A Workshop on Musical Circulations to and from China from the Qing Dynasty through the Present. Adam Kielman, Columbia University; Qingfan Jiang, Columbia University; Paize Keulemans, Princeton University; Fred Lau, University of Hawaii; Susan Boynton, Columbia University; Wei Shang, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Department of Music and Columbia Global Centers | East Asia.

20 Global Perspectives in Histories of Music Theory. Sadegh Ansari, PhD Candidate, Columbia University; Mahir Cetiz, Core Lecturer in Music Humanities, Columbia University; Qingfan Jiang, PhD Candidate, Columbia University; Zoe Weiss, PhD Candidate, Cornell University; Carlos Ramirez, PhD Candidate, Cornell University; Andrew Hicks, Assistant Professor of Musicology, Cornell University; Eugenia Lean, Associate Professor of East Asian Languages and Cultures, Columbia University; Benjamin Steege, Assistant Professor of Music, Columbia University; Kavita Sivaramakrishnan, Assistant Professor of Sociomedical Sciences, Columbia University; moderators: Carmel Raz, Mellon Postdoctoral Research Fellow at the Society of Fellows, Columbia University; Lan Li, Presidential Scholar in Society and Neuroscience at the Society for Comparative Literature and Society and Neuroscience at the Society. of Fellows, Columbia University: Joon Park, Assistant Professor of Music Theory, University of Arkansas; David Cohen, Columbia University; Guangming Li, Beijing Conservatory; respondent: Nathan Martin, Assistant Professor of Music, University of Michigan. Co-sponsored by the Center for Science and Society, the Heyman Center for the Humanities, the Center for Korean Research, the Columbia University Department of Music, and the Cornell University Department of Music.

March

3 Sourcing the Grassroots: New Methods and Unconventional Sources in PRC History. JM Chris Chang, Columbia University; Liu Shigu, Postdoctoral Fellow, Chinese University of Hong Kong; Xu Zhigao, Independent Scholar.

10–11 Rethinking Authorship in East Asia and Europe. Paul Anderer, Columbia University; Hiroshi Araki, International Research Center for Japanese Studies; David Atherton, University of Colorado Boulder; Susan Baynton, Columbia University; Torquil Duthie, University of California, Los Angeles; Michael Emmerich, University of California, Los Angeles; Jane Gaines, Columbia University; Thomas Gaubatz, Northwestern University; Bunkyo Kin, Kyoto University Emeritus, Tsurumi University; Yuika Kitamura, Kobe University; Kazuaki Komine, Rikkyo University Emeritus, Waseda University; Sungsi Lee, Waseda University; Indra Levy, Stanford University; David Lurie, Columbia University; Hiroaki Nagashima, University of Tokyo; Frank Palmeri, University of Miami; Pau Pitarch-Fernandez, Queens College of the City University of New York; Ying Qian, Columbia University; Wei Shang, Columbia University; Anna M. Shields, Princeton University; Satoko Shimazaki, University of Southern California; Haruo Shirane, Columbia University; Mihoko Suzuki, University of Miami; Tomi Suzuki, Columbia University; Toshiyuki Suzuki, Chuo University; Koji Toba, Waseda University; Dorothea von Mücke, Columbia University; Charles Woolley, Columbia University; Hitomi Yoshio, Waseda University. Co-sponsored by the Donald Keene Center of Japanese Culture: Third Annual Embodied Cognition Workshop. Suvarna Alladi, Professor of Neurology, National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences, Bangalore, India; Carol Cassidy, Founder, Lao Textiles; Carla Childs, Germantown Friends School; Maurie Cohen, Professor of Sustainability Studies and Director of the Program in Science, Technology, and Society at the New Jersey Institute of Technology; Izzy Dabiri, Costume Tailor; Barbara Faedda, Associate Director, Italian Academy; Stephen Flusberg, Assistant Professor of Psychology, SUNY Purchase College; Andrew Goldman, Presidential Scholar in Society and Neuroscience, Columbia University; Patricia Greenfield, Distinguished Professor of Psychology, UCLA; Simone Khamdypaphanh, Weaver, Lao Textiles; Clare King, Founder, Propell, Inc; Roger L. Kneebone, Professor of Surgical Education and Engagement Science, Imperial College London; Welcome Trust Engagement Fellow; Dorothy Ko, Professor of History, Barnard College; Nora Ligorano, Artist, LigoranoReese; Anna-purna Mamidipudi, Postdoctoral Scholar, History of Science, Maastricht; Somphone Pasithiphone, Weaver and Translator, Lao Textiles; Bouakham Phengmixay, Weaver, Lao Textiles; Marshall Reese, Artist, LigoranoReese; Ulinka Rublack, Professor

April

4–8 Weaving: Cognition, Technology, Culture: Third Annual Embodied Cognition Workshop. Suvarna Alladi, Professor of Neurology, National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences, Bangalore, India; Carol Cassidy, Founder, Lao Textiles; Carla Childs, Germantown Friends School; Maurie Cohen, Professor of Sustainability Studies and Director of the Program in Science, Technology, and Society at the New Jersey Institute of Technology; Izzy Dabiri, Costume Tailor; Barbara Faedda, Associate Director, Italian Academy; Stephen Flusberg, Assistant Professor of Psychology, SUNY Purchase College; Andrew Goldman, Presidential Scholar in Society and Neuroscience, Columbia University; Patricia Greenfield, Distinguished Professor of Psychology, UCLA; Simone Khamdypaphanh, Weaver, Lao Textiles; Clare King, Founder, Propell, Inc; Roger L. Kneebone, Professor of Surgical Education and Engagement Science, Imperial College London; Welcome Trust Engagement Fellow; Dorothy Ko, Professor of History, Barnard College; Nora Ligorano, Artist, LigoranoReese; Anna-purna Mamidipudi, Postdoctoral Scholar, History of Science, Maastricht; Somphone Pasithiphone, Weaver and Translator, Lao Textiles; Bouakham Phengmixay, Weaver, Lao Textiles; Marshall Reese, Artist, LigoranoReese; Ulinka Rublack, Professor of History, University of Cambridge; Paul Sajda, Professor of Biomedical Engineering, Electrical Engineering and Radiology, Columbia University; DaphnaShahamy, Associate Professor of Psychology, Columbia University; Pamela H. Smith, Seth Low Professor of History and Director of the Center for Science and Society, Columbia University; Uzramma, Independent Scholar, Loom Activist. Cosponsored by the Center for Science and Society; the Dorothy Borg Research Program of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute; and the Department of History, Columbia University.

His Excellency Ashok Kumar Mirpuri, Ambassador of the Republic of Singapore to the United States, meets with students after his March 6 lecture, What’s Next? U.S.-Southeast Asia Relations under the Trump Administration.

15 Modern East Asian Law in Global Perspective. Tristan G. Brown, Columbia University; Yue Du, New York University; Maura Dykstra, California Institute of Technology; Idriss Fofana, Columbia University; Jooyeon Hahm, University of Pennsylvania; Colin Jones, Columbia University; Paul Kreitman, Columbia University; Chien Wen Kung, Columbia University; Ling-Wei Kung, Columbia University; John Lee, Harvard University; Arnulf Becker Lorca, Amherst College; Thomas Lafortaine Odom, Columbia University; Andrew Sartori, New York University; Eric Vanden Bussche, Sam Houston State University; Fei-Hsien Wang, Indiana University; Madeleine Zelin, Columbia University; Taisu Zhang, Yale University. Cosponsored by the American Society for Legal History.

19 Thailand Update Conference 2017. Tyrell Haberkorn, Research Fellow, Australian National University; Allen Hicken, Ronald and Eileen Weiser Professor of Emerging Democracies, University of Michigan; Duncan McCargo, Visiting Professor of Political Science, Columbia University; Frank Muger, Professor of Law, New York Law School; Kanda Naknoi, Associate Professor of Economics, University of Connecticut; Arwiphanwee Srithongkrung, Associate Professor of Public Administration, Wichita State University; Penchan Phobirisut, Assistant Professor of Communications, California State University-Fullerton; Puangchon Unchanan, PhD Student in Political Science, CUNY Graduate Center. Cosponsored by the New York Southeast Asia Network, the Columbia Southeast Asian Student Initiative, and the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation Study Center at Columbia University.

20–21 Critical Perspectives on U.S.–Southeast Asia Relations. Linda Chhun, UCLA; Jennifer Gaynor, SUNY Buffalo; John Gershman, New York University; Tyrell Haberkorn, ANU; Sinae Hyun, University of Wisconsin; Jeremy Jammes, Universiti Brunei Darussalam; Evan Laksmana, Syracuse University; Raymond Leos, Paññāsāstra University of Cambodia; Duncan McCargo, Columbia University; Jessica Melvin, Yale University; Ann Marie Murphy, Seton Hall University; Andrew J. Nathan, Columbia University; Lien-Hang Nguyen, Columbia University; Hai Nguyen, Texas Tech University; Billy Noseworthy, University of Wisconsin; Jewel Pereyra, Georgetown University; Soualtha Sayalath, Hiroshima University; Margaret Scott, New York University; Dahlia Setiawan; John Sidell, London School of Economics; Neferti Tadiar, Barnard College; Simon Toner, Columbia University; Benny Widyono, University of Connecticut; Rungchai Yensabai, University of Leeds; Eve Zucker, Rutgers University. Cosponsored by NYSEAN.

21 Japanese Book History Workshop. Takahiro Sasaki, Keio University; moderator: Haruo Shirane, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, the Donald Keene Center of Japanese Culture, and the C.V. Starr East Asian Library.

28–29 Knowledge Production in Twentieth-Century China and Beyond. Cao Nanning, Fudan University; JM Chris Chang, Columbia University; John Chen, Columbia University; Rob Culp, Bard College; Benjamin Elman, Princeton University; Jin Guarngao, Fudan University; Eugenia Lean, Columbia University; Pi Guoli, Zhongyuan University; Sigrid Schmalzer, UMass Amherst; Shellen Wu, University of Tennessee; Zhang Li, School of Humanities, University of Chinese Academy of Sciences; Zhang Qing, Fudan University; Zhang Zhongmin, Fudan University; Dongxin Zou, Columbia University. Cosponsored by the Center for Science and Society, the C.V. Starr East Asian Library, the Confucius Institute, Fudan University, and Zhongyuan University.

May

2–3 The Engine of Modernity. Geert Somsen, Senior Lecturer, Maastricht University; Marwa Elshakry, Associate Professor of History, Columbia University; Eugenia Lean, Associate Professor of Chinese History, Columbia University; Lorraine Daston, Director, Max Planck Institute for the History of Science; Alex Csiszar, Assistant Professor of the History of Science, Harvard University; Andrew Jewett, Assistant Professor of History and of Social Studies, Harvard University; Elena Aronova, Assistant Professor, University of California Santa Barbara; Elise Aurières, Ph.D Student, Université Paris 1 – Panthéon-Sorbonne; Nick Jardine, Emeritus Professor, University of Cambridge; Steve Fuller, Auguste Comte Chair in Social Epistemology, University of Warwick; Adriana Feld, Professor of Secondary and Higher Education, National Council of Scientific and Technical Research, Buenos Aires; Thomas Mougey, PhD Candidate, Department of History, Maastricht University; Jahnavi Phalkar, Senior Lecturer in History of Science and Technology, Kings College London; Małgorzata Mazurek, Associate Professor of Polish Studies, Columbia University; George Reisch, Independent Scholar; Gabriela Soto Loveaga, Professor of the History of Science, Harvard University. Cosponsored by the Center for Science & Society at Columbia University, the Society of Fellows and Heyman Center for the Humanities, the Harriman Institute, the Department of History, the Center for International History, and the Max Planck Institute for the History of Science.

13 After Total War: Mobilization and Its Aftermath in the Japanese Wartime Empire. Victor Louzon, INTERACT Postdoctoral Scholar, Weatherhead East Asian Institute; Sayaka Chatani, Postdoctoral Fellow, National University of Singapore; Clay Eaton, PhD Candidate in Japanese History, Columbia University; Ethan Mark, University Lecturer in Japanese History, Leiden University; Sarah Kovner, Senior Research Scholar, Arnold A. Saltzman Institute of War and Peace Studies, Columbia University; Seiji Shirane, Assistant Professor of History, City College of New York, CUNY. Cosponsored by the INTERACT Program.
SPECIAL EVENTS IN SOUTHEAST ASIA

During the summer of 2016, the Weatherhead East Asian Institute held widely attended panel discussions and receptions in Indonesia and Singapore to foster the growth of Columbia University alumni networks in Southeast Asia and to promote the study of Southeast Asia at Columbia. These events brought together Columbia faculty, students, and alumni, as well as academics, students, and members of the public.

On June 29, 2016, the Institute held a panel discussion at Jakarta’s Mandarin Oriental Hotel titled “Competing Visions for Southeast Asian International and Domestic Politics.” The discussion was introduced by Eugenia Lean, Director of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute and Associate Professor of Chinese History at Columbia University, and featured Mari Pangestu, Former Minister of Trade and Former Minister of Tourism and Creative Economy, Republic of Indonesia; Xiaobo Lü, Professor of Political Science, Barnard College; Duncan McCargo, Visiting Professor of Political Science, Columbia University; Ann Marie Murphy, Senior Research Scholar, Weatherhead East Asian Institute; and Andrew J. Nathan, Class of 1919 Professor of Political Science, Columbia University.

On July 1, 2016, the Institute held a panel discussion at Singapore’s Four Seasons Hotel titled “Southeast Asia in Regional and Comparative Perspective: What China and the United States Have to Do with It.” The discussion was introduced by Eugenia Lean and featured Xiaobo Lü, Duncan McCargo, Ann Marie Murphy, and Andrew J. Nathan.

Additionally, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at the National University of Singapore and the Weatherhead East Asian Institute cohosted a panel discussion on June 27, 2016, titled “Superpower Rivalries and Regional Interests: Southeast Asia, China, and the U.S.” This panel featured Eugenia Lean, Xiaobo Lü, Duncan McCargo, Ann Marie Murphy, and Andrew J. Nathan. Their discussion was moderated by Suzaina Bte Abdul Kadir, Associate Dean and Deputy Director of Academic Affairs at the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy.
The Institute supports advanced study of East Asia through programs in the School of International and Public Affairs (Master of International Affairs); the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences (GSAS) (MA in Regional Studies—East Asia); and the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures (MA in East Asian Languages and Cultures). Institute faculty members also sponsor PhD candidates from the humanities and social sciences departments of Columbia’s GSAS.

Master of Arts in Regional Studies—East Asia (MARSEA)

The Institute administers the Master of Arts in Regional Studies—East Asia (MARSEA) through the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences for those wishing to focus on a social science approach to modern East Asia. The program provides interdisciplinary training (intensive exposure to the politics, international relations, modern history, and cultural and social formations of the region) with a country and transregional focus. The program is tailored to meet the needs of persons entering professional careers, mid-career professionals, students preparing for entry into doctoral programs, and those pursuing a professional degree, such as a JD or MBA, who want to gain regional expertise.

2016–2017 MARSEA Graduates:
- Yiming Chen, China
- Ji Yae Huh, Korea
- Lingbo Jiang, Japan
- Jungeun Lee, China
- Nicholas Liu, China
- Xinran Liu, Japan
- Andrew P. Nelson, Japan
- Matthew Novak, China
- Jia Zeng, China
- Mengxi Zhu, China

The Certificate Program

The Institute Certificate curriculum allows students matriculated in one of Columbia’s graduate programs to pursue an intensive program of study designed for a career related to East Asian affairs in academia, government, or the private sector. The certificate attests to a specialized knowledge of a language and an area of the Asia Pacific region. A student may choose from among three program options: a focus on modern China, modern Japan, or modern Korea.

Graduate Study at the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures (EALAC)

The Master of Arts program in the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures is a regional studies humanities program for students with a limited background in East Asia and is intended to provide a broad overview of the field and equip students with the skills to undertake more advanced research.

School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) Regional Specialization in East Asian Studies

The regional specialization in East Asian Studies is open to students earning a Master of International Affairs degree from SIPA and is designed to provide a sound foundation in the modern history, politics, culture, and society of the region.

2016–2017 SIPA graduates with a regional specialization in East Asian studies:

Daniel Andreeff
Natasha Ardiani
Ruizhao Chen
Sherman Chu
Charlie Chung
Daniel Combs
Kendall Derstine
Shichao Dong
Ayanda Francis
Brody Hale
Rachel Hulvey
Yi Kyung Hong
Andrew Liu
Siyu Liu
Anna Nevedla
Jean Pak
Nicholas Reinhold
Jason Russel
Stephanie Zhenyi Shi
Eric Sohn

Joshua Swartzel
Amelia Tan
Felix Tan
Yifei Tang
Glenn Teo
Joshua Trinidad

International Network to Expand Regional and Collaborative Teaching (INTERACT) Postdoctoral Fellowship

INTERACT is a pioneering, joint program of the Columbia University Weatherhead East Asian Institute, the Committee on Global Thought, the Harriman Institute, and the Institute for Comparative Literature and Society that focuses on developing global studies in the undergraduate curriculum through a network of postdoctoral scholars focused on cross-regional, transregional, and interdisciplinary study.

The Weatherhead East Asian Institute offers one INTERACT fellowship to an outstanding scholar of modern and contemporary East Asia with a demonstrated emphasis on global context and connections.

INTERACT's primary goals are to improve global literacy among Columbia students and equip them to be leaders in a globalizing world. These objectives are met through innovative courses, participation in institute programs and events, and an annual educator workshop organized collaboratively by INTERACT fellows.

The INTERACT fellow for 2016–2017 was Victor Louzon. Dr. Louzon received his PhD from Sciences Po. During the 2016–2017 academic year, he taught the courses “East Asia and the Long Cold War” and “Empire Formations in Modern East Asia.” In May 2017, Dr. Louzon organized an INTERACT workshop titled “After Total War: Mobilization and Its Aftermath in the Japanese Wartime Empire,” which featured Sayaka Chatani, Clay Eaton, Sarah Kovner, Ethan Mark, and Seiji Shirane. Additionally, Dr. Louzon presented the fall 2016 public lecture “The Last Battle of the Sino-Japanese War? The February 28 Incident in Taiwan, 1947.”
UNDERGRADUATE INITIATIVE

Weatherhead East Asian Institute Undergraduate Initiative

The Weatherhead East Asian Institute Undergraduate Initiative is the product of our Institute-wide recognition that Columbia University undergraduate students are key constituents to our Institute’s mission. The Institute strives to enrich students’ education at Columbia with exposure to East Asia through a continuous stream of events, programs, and opportunities, including the support of student groups and key experiences such as research abroad.

GLOBAL SCHOLARS PROGRAM

In 2012, the Weatherhead East Asian Institute, in collaboration with the Columbia Global Centers and the Office of Global Programs, launched the inaugural Global Scholars Program (GSP) Summer Research Workshop, an immersive study abroad program that provides students with the opportunity to learn about field research methodologies in a comparative, cross-cultural environment.

In the summer 2017 program “Media Practices in India and China,” Columbia University professors Debashree Mukherjee and Ying Qian led a course in Mumbai and Beijing for a group of undergraduate students. Through visits to sites of media production, exhibition, and consumption, and meetings with a wide array of media practitioners—including independent documentary filmmakers, minority media activists, media corporations, and state institutions for media regulation and creation—students discussed media in relation to (post)colonial conditions, authoritarianism, oppositional politics, urbanization, and globalization.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Asia Pacific Affairs Council (APAC)

APAC is a forum for Columbia graduate students interested in East and Southeast Asian affairs. Founded and run by students, APAC serves the entire University community by organizing events, distributing information, and coordinating East Asia-related activities while building a community for students interested in East Asia. APAC works with the Weatherhead East Asian Institute to fulfill its mission. The APAC chair for 2016–2017 was Eric Sohn (SIPA), and the editor of the APAC Journal was Andrew Long-Higgins (SIPA).

Greater China Initiative

The Greater China Initiative (GCI) aims to promote interaction and connection between students who are interested in the economy, politics, business, and media of the Greater China region. It also aims to serve as a resource center for students who are planning to work, live or travel in, or learn more about the region. It taps mainly into the resources and network available within the School of International and Public Affairs and Columbia University.

Japan Study Student Association/Nihon Benkyokai

The Japan Study Student Association/Nihon Benkyokai (JASSA/NBK) is open to all who are interested in Japan’s politics, economy, culture, and language. The goals of the group are: (1) to establish mutually beneficial friendships between Japanese students and those from other countries by hosting seminars and social events; (2) to supply students who seek job opportunities in Japan with information on recruiting and internships; (3) to help students in their study of the Japanese language through regular language tables; and (4) to increase the level of interest in and awareness of Japan. Events are held in English and Japanese and are open to the Columbia University community.

Khorlo Tibetan Studies Group

Rikpé Khorlo (Khorlo for short) is the Columbia University Modern Tibetan Studies graduate student group. Khorlo meets several times a semester to discuss common intellectual interests across disciplines in Tibetan Studies, host professors and experts, and offer peer support.

Korea Focus

Korea Focus serves the SIPA and broader Columbia communities by enhancing the level of student relations and understanding of Korea-related issues. The group organizes film nights, lecture series, language tables, internship panels, and various social events.

Southeast Asian Student Initiative

The Southeast Asian Student Initiative (SEASI) is a student-run organization that serves as a forum for interaction among members of the SIPA and greater Columbia communities who share an interest in the Southeast Asian region. The group is committed to promoting awareness and understanding of, and dialogue on, the region’s culture, politics, and economics through activities such as Brown Bag discussions, internship panels, movie screenings, and lecture series.

Taiwan Focus

Taiwan Focus aims to foster understanding and awareness of this island country and to encourage dialogue and research on Taiwan-related issues at Columbia University. Taiwan Focus also serves as a platform to provide resources for those who are interested in studying and/or traveling in Taiwan. The group organizes and promotes events including movie nights, Brown Bag talks, seminars, cultural events, and art exhibitions on and off campus, on various topics such as Taiwan’s society, culture, politics, economy, and history.
STUDENT SUPPORT

Support for East Asian studies at the graduate level comes from generous contributors and foundations. The endowment provided by the Weatherhead Foundation is the largest resource. Every year the Institute grants nearly $1 million in awards on behalf of these donors, as well as the federal government, in support of advancing research and training new generations of experts on East Asia.

The First Books Endowment of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute

This endowment was created to enable young scholars to publish their first work. The donor is a SIPA alumna who worked for the Institute’s publications program more than thirty years ago. It is her hope, through this endowment, that the Institute’s publications programs will continue to benefit young scholars of East Asia for a long time to come. In 2016–2017, the award was given to two authors: Claire Edington, assistant professor of history at the University of California, San Diego, for Beyond the Asylum: A Social History of Psychiatry in French Colonial Vietnam, 1880–1940 (under contract at Cornell University Press); and Robert Tuck, assistant professor of Japanese at the University of Montana, for Idly Scribbling Rhymers: Poetry, Print, and Community in Nineteenth-Century Japan (under contract at Columbia University Press).

Fellowships Administered by the Institute

The abbreviations used in the following lists are as follows:

AMEC: Asian and Middle Eastern Cultures
BC: Barnard College
CC: Columbia College
CUCUNY: City University of New York
EALAC: East Asian Languages and Cultures
ENCL: English and Comparative Literature
GS: General Studies
GSAS: Graduate School of Arts and Sciences
IWH: MA/MSc in International and World History
MARSEA: Master of Arts in Regional Studies–East Asia
MSPH: Mailman School of Public Health
P&S: Physicians and Surgeons
SEAS: School of Engineering and Applied Science
SIPA: School of International and Public Affairs
SOA: School of the Arts
SSW: School of Social Work
TC: Teachers College

Dorothy Borg Academic Year Fellowship

The Dorothy Borg Research Program of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute was established to prepare scholars for the challenge of studying transnational issues involving the United States and East Asia and to explore new conceptual strategies and themes for understanding the study of U.S.–East Asia. This fellowship awards PhD students in the write-up stage of their dissertation and provides academic year support.

Noga Ganany (GSAS: EALAC)

Daniel and Marianne Spiegel Fund

This fellowship is generously funded by Marianne Spiegel, an alumna and longtime supporter of Columbia University. The fund supports social science research of modern China. By providing support for research expenses, the fund allows students to conduct research that they would have otherwise been unable to undertake.

Gavin Healy (GSAS: EALAC)
Dongxin Zou (GSAS: EALAC)

C. Martin Wilbur Fellowship

This fellowship honors the memory of C. Martin Wilbur, a professor of Chinese history at Columbia and a founding director of the Institute, and was generously endowed by his friends and supporters.

Michelle Zhang (TC: Applied Anthropology)

Foreign Language Area Studies Fellowships (FLAS)

These awards were given to students to study East Asian languages during the summer. The fellowships are funded by the U.S. Department of Education and are part of the Institute’s overall funding as a designated National Resource Center for East Asia.

49

Summer FLAS:
- Dylon Browning (CC: EALAC)
- Aaron Glasserman (GSAS: History)
- Karen Jensen (GSAS: Religion)
- David Kim (SIPA: Public Administration)
- Shaun Lin (CUCUNY: Earth and Environmental Sciences)
- Antonio Mendoza (GSAS: EALAC)
- Peter Moody (GSAS: EALAC)
- Sayantani Mukherjee (GSAS: History)
- Eun Byoul Oh (CC: EALAC)
- Nicholas Reinhold (SIPA: International Affairs)
- Guy St. Amant (GSAS: EALAC)
- Andrew Wortham (TC: Anthropology of Education)

Academic Year FLAS:
- Nolan Bensen (GSAS: EALAC)
- Harlan Chambers (GSAS: EALAC)
- Trevor Menders (CC: EALAC)
- Scott Miller (GSAS: EALAC)
- Sayantani Mukherjee (GSAS: History)
- Adena Peckler (GSAS: MARSEA)
- Dylan Rothman (CC: EALAC)
- Hailey Savage (GSAS: MARSEA)

Julie How Fellowship
This fellowship, established in May 2001, honors the memory of Julie Lien-ying How. The fellowship offers partial support to advanced doctoral students who are enrolled in a PhD program in a social sciences department and have a research focus on China.

Nan Jiang (SSW: Social Policy Analysis)

Sasakawa Young Leaders Fellowship Fund (SYLFF) Fellowship
The SYLFF program was established at Columbia in 1991 by the Tokyo Foundation “to provide fellowships to graduate students concentrating in the study of the Pacific Basin region who have demonstrated high potential for future leadership in international affairs, in public life as well as in private endeavor.”

SYLFF Fellowship in Pacific Basin Studies
These fellowships are awarded for academic year study of the Pacific Basin at the doctoral level.

So Yoon Ahn (GSAS: Economics)
Geoffrey Aung (GSAS: Anthropology)
Linh (Amy) Dao (MSPH: Sociomedical Sciences—Anthropology)

SYLFF Summer Grants
The SYLFF Summer Grants are awarded for internships and research in the Asia Pacific.

PhD Grants:
So Yoon Ahn (GSAS: Economics)
Justin Canfill (GSAS: Political Science)
Jian Ming Chris Chang (GSAS: EALAC)
Eunsung Cho (GSAS: History)
James Gerien-Chen (GSAS: History)
Mike He (MSPH: Environmental Health Sciences)
Jeewon Kim (GSAS: Art History and Archaeology)
Thomas Ryan (GSAS: History)
Hwanhee Suh (GSAS: Art History and Archaeology)
Norashiqin Toh (GSAS: Political Science)
Dessislava Vendova (GSAS: Religion)
Yi Wang (SSW: Social Policy Analysis)
Andrew Wortham (TC: Anthropology of Education)
Chengji Xing (GSAS: History)
Laura Wing Mei Yan (GSAS: History)
Joonseok Yang (GSAS: Political Science)
Cathy Zhu (GSAS: Art History and Archaeology)

MA Grants:
Clara Aseniero (GSAS: IWH)
Alique Berberian (SIPA: International Affairs)
Hannah Eibensteiner (SIPA: International Affairs)
Jason Fauss (SIPA: International Affairs)
Rachel Fowler (MSPH: Public Health)

Yingjia Guo (SOA: Sound Arts)
Sulim Kim (GSAS: EALAC)
Anne Lieberman (GSAS: Human Rights)
Grace Na (TC: International Education)
Kruti Patel (SIPA: Public Administration)
Devanshu Sood (SIPA: International Affairs)
Zhao (Afra) Wang (GSAS: IWH)
Yushuang Zheng (GSAS: EALAC)
Beibei Bella Zou (SIPA: International Affairs)

V. K. Wellington Koo Fellowship
This fellowship, named for the distinguished diplomat and Columbia University alumnus V. K. Wellington Koo (Columbia College 1908, PhD 1912), is awarded to doctoral students at the write-up stage of their dissertations, focusing on modern China.

Chien Wen Kung (GSAS: History)
Chris Peacock (GSAS: EALAC)

Weatherhead Fellowships
These fellowships are made possible by the support of the Weatherhead Foundation and are awarded to students doing summer research and for academic year support. The Weatherhead fellows are Columbia students representing a variety of academic disciplines who are given fellowships in recognition of their dedication to the study of East Asia.

Weatherhead Academic Year Fellows
Chen Hainebach (GSAS: EALAC)
Tenggeer Hao (GSAS: EALAC)
Chen Jiang (GSAS: Art History and Archaeology)
Hae Yeun Kim (GSAS: Art History and Archaeology)
Riga Shakya (GSAS: EALAC)
Oliver White (GSAS: EALAC)

Weatherhead PhD Training Grant
Harlan Chambers (GSAS: EALAC)
Ulud Kuzuoglu (GSAS: History)
Yuqing Luo (GSAS: EALAC)
Toru Momii (GSAS: Music)
Alessandro Poletto (GSAS: Religion)
Nataly Shahaf (GSAS: EALAC)

Arnaud van der Meer (GSAS: EALAC)
Oliver White (GSAS: EALAC)
Dongming Wu (GSAS: EALAC)
Yingchuan Yang (GSAS: EALAC)
Yifan Zhang (GSAS: EALAC)

Weatherhead MA Training Grant
Sally Greenland (GSAS: IWH)
Stella Kim (GSAS: IWH)
Daisuke Maruichi (SIPA: International Affairs)

Weatherhead Undergraduate Training Grant
Po Bodin (CC: Economics and EALAC)
Allegre De Landri (CC: Neuroscience)
Kenneth Yen Fujisaki (CC: Computer Science)
Xinyi Gu (CC: Sustainable Development)
Heather Heimbach (SEAS: Undecided)
Gil Hong (CC: Political Science)
Nicholas Lombardo (CC: EALAC)
Clarissa Macias (BC: AMEC)
Sara Mael (BC: Political Science)
Tina Zhuangchen Shan (BC: Comparative Literature)
Phillip Steinmann (CC: EALAC)
Ryan Yazdi (GS: EALAC)

Y. F. and L. C. C. Wu Fellowship
This fellowship provides academic year support to students of Chinese descent who have demonstrated academic excellence.

Ling-Wei Kung (GSAS: EALAC)
Rong Zhao (SSW)

Mitsui Fellowship
The Mitsui USA Research fellowship provides Columbia students financial support to conduct firsthand academic research in Japan over the summer. Priority is given to those students with interest in international trade, business, investment, and/or in Japan’s role in regional and global affairs.

Hannah Story Brown (CC: Political Science)
Ethan Edwards (SOA: Sound Arts)
Max Pensack (P&S: Medicine)
Tiffany Yang (GS: EALAC)
The Asia for Educators program (AFE), based at the Institute, sponsors and cosponsors numerous programs around the country to support education on Asia at both the K–12 and undergraduate levels. AFE is one of the founding sites of the National Consortium for Teaching about Asia and serves as a national site, coordinating work in twelve states. Established in 1977, by its current director, Dr. Roberta Martin, AFE is entering its fortieth anniversary year.

Asia for Educators (AFE) Online
http://afe.easia.columbia.edu

The Asia for Educators website is one of the most widely used and highly respected sources for materials on Asia for faculty at both the precollege and undergraduate levels. The site is a recipient of the Franklin Buchanan Prize 2000 for outstanding curriculum publications for all educational levels, awarded by the Association for Asian Studies and its Committee on Teaching about Asia.

The Asia for Educators website includes focused modules on topics such as the Song dynasty, the Qing dynasty, the Mongols, and East Asian geography. It also includes a resource website for Asian art in national and international museums: Online Museum Resources on Asian Art (OMuRAA). In addition to focused modules, AFE Online provides access to the teachers’ guides, student lessons, and primary source readings on China, Japan, Korea, and Vietnam for teachers of world history, world cultures, world geography, economics and current events, literature, and art. The AFE website continues to grow in popularity, with over 350,000 users in 2016–2017.

In 2016–2017 AFE began the process of updating the entire AFE site. The NEH-funded module, “Recording the Grandeur of the Qing,” coproduced originally with the Art Media Center at Columbia in collaboration with the Department of Asian Art at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, is AFE’s first undertaking. Focusing on four historic handscrolls, painted to record the Southern Inspection Tours of the Kangxi Emperor in the 17th century (two scrolls) and Qianlong Emperor, the grandson of the Kangxi Emperor, in the 18th century (two scrolls), these fascinating records of China during the reign of the Manchu/Qing dynasty make images of Chinese cityscapes, waterworks, sacred mountains, and imperial regalia available for educational use at all levels—elementary through graduate specialist. Through use of the most advanced Internet tools, the scrolls are now available on tablets and other handheld devices, enabling the viewer to scroll and zoom in on small details with the touch of a finger. With the new technology it is possible to see details of the scrolls that one can hardly decipher with the naked eye. Professor Madeleine Zelin, of Columbia, and Dr. Maxwell K. Hearn, Douglas Dillon Chairman of the Department of Asian Art at the Metropolitan Museum, provide the historical and artistic insights on the scrolls and the Qing dynasty in sections of the module on the emperors, the economy, the society, and the art of the Qing. (These scrolls, it should be noted, were commissioned by the emperors “for posterity” and were kept in the imperial collection until modern times. By making these four scrolls available, online, to educators, specialists, and interested viewers everywhere, AFE is, in a sense, fulfilling the intention of these two very famous Qing emperors.) The process of updating the site continues in summer 2017 with work on both the historical timeline of resources and the module “The Song Dynasty: China in the Year 1000,” whose focus is again on a scroll—that of the iconic handscroll “Spring Festival along the River,” painted during the Song dynasty.

National Consortium for Teaching about Asia (NCTA)
http://www.nctasia.org

Columbia’s AFE continues its national outreach as one of the founding sites of NCTA, formed in 1998 with funding from the Freeman Foundation. As a national coordinating site, Columbia works directly with partner universities in eleven states to offer professional development and study tours for teachers. The Foundation’s support for this program has been unwavering over the nineteen years of the program.

In 2016–2017 the Columbia coordinating site of NCTA worked in collaboration with eleven partner site institutions, to offer, collectively, 40 different programs, of varying lengths and formats, serving a total of 1,100 teachers. The partner sites collaborating directly with the Columbia Coordinating Site are Princeton University for New Jersey; Furman University for South Carolina; the Universities of North Carolina at Wilmington, Florida International, Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee at Chattanooga, Oklahoma, and Kansas, for their respective states; and Southern Methodist University for Texas. All NCTA sites are working in concert to develop programs for teachers in their states, where in many cases there have historically been few opportunities for professional development on East Asia for teachers. Columbia and WEAI graduates, teaching at universities around the country, serve as directors of the NCTA partner sites and as study tour leaders. Columbia faculty may indeed be teaching undergraduates or graduate students whose first encounter with East Asia was with a high school teacher.

Study Tours
Under the direction of Karen Kane, Associate Director of AFE, Columbia and its affiliated partner institutions offered a study tour to China and Vietnam in July 2017 for a total of twenty teachers, drawn from a national pool of alumni of NCTA online or face-to-face professional development programs. Two academic specialists lead the group. Funding from the Freeman Foundation for NCTA supports the study tours.

Online Presentations, Seminars, and Book Groups
AFE offers online courses open to teachers nationally for professional development. In 2016–2017 AFE offered eight online book groups serving a total of 210 teachers. Five of the book groups were part of the series “The Cultural Revolution: 50th Anniversary: which included a strand on Politics and Society as well as one on Literature and Autobiography. Karen Kane taught two of the literature and autobiography courses on the Cultural Revolution as well as a special book group on the history of Vietnam, with guest specialist, Professor Shelton Woods. Twenty of the fifty-five teachers in this course will participate in the 2017 study tour to China and Vietnam this summer. Two other book groups focused on Japanese and Chinese literature for middle and high school teachers.

These weekly, online readings and discussions are a popular attraction for teachers, as they are able to deepen their own understanding while identifying literature or articles that they can read with their students.

AFE also offers the Top Ten Things to Know about X Series of broadcasts. Columbia specialists who have shared their expertise in these broadcasts include Professor Andrew J. Nathan, with two presentations, one on “China in the World Today” and one on “Human Rights in China,” and Professor Mae Ngai on “Asians in American History.” Ted Bestor, a former WEAI member now at Harvard, shared his expertise on “Important Things to Know about Japanese Society.” In 2016–2017 AFE taped three more programs in the series, including one on the often-taught subject of “China’s Ming Voyages.” The shorter formats and contemporary focus are attractive to teachers. Access to the archived presentations is on the subsidiary course platform, http://asiaforeducators.org. The site has attracted over 3,000 participants since its inception in 2011.

Inaugural Freeman Book Awards for Children’s and Young Adult Books on East and Southeast Asia—2016 Awards

In 2016–2017, at the instigation of AFE, the National Consortium for Teaching about Asia (NCTA), the Committee on Teaching about Asia (CTA) of the Association for Asian Studies (AAS), and Asia for Educators (AFE) at Columbia University established annual Freeman Book Awards for new young adult and children’s literature. The awards recognize quality books for children and young adults that contribute meaningfully to an understanding of East and Southeast Asia. Awards are given in two categories: Children’s and Young Adult Literature on the several countries of East and Southeast Asia. AFE, with support from the Weatherhead East Asian Institute and the U.S. Department of Education, administers the selection procedures, with two committees of teachers and librarians drawn from NCTA and CTA sites around the country.

The 2016 Awards, announced in January 2017, included an autobiography of a North Korean teenager (Winner—Young Adult/High School) and an autobiography of an Indonesian child (Winner—Children’s Book), along with three books focused on Japanese middle and secondary students and one on a famous Japanese woman poet. The nomination process for 2017 titles is now open; winners will be announced in November 2017 for publicity by publishers at the January 2018 mid-winter meetings of the American Library Association and its affiliates, the Association for Library Service to Children (ALSC) and the Young Adult Library Services Association (YALSA). Additional information on the awards and is available at http://nctasia.org/book-awards/

The Freeman Foundation applauded the launch of the awards with the following statement on the significance of the awards:

Since the early 1990s, the Freeman Family has made significant contributions to the understanding of Asia of the American people. Through the Freeman Foundation, the family has supported thousands of programs and created impacts on millions of people. The vision, dedication and devotion of the Freeman Family have left deep marks on the people to people relationships between the United States and East and Southeast Asia, and will continue to bring about positive changes in those relationships. The Freeman Foundation believes that having the Freeman Book Awards would be the most appropriate way to recognize the Freeman Family, and would further enhance the efforts of many American educators in promoting education about Asia in this country. The Freeman Foundation hopes that the Freeman Book Awards will encourage writers to write more books on Asia, teachers to teach more of those books, and students to read more of those books.

Project on Asia in the Core Curriculum (PACC) for College

Teaching Guides for the Undergraduate Level: The Columbia Project on Asia in the Core Curriculum (PACC), involving more than one hundred scholars, Asianists and non-Asianists, from seventy-five undergraduate institutions of different sizes and types, was inaugurated in 1984 under the sponsorship of Columbia University to support integration of Asian materials into the general education curriculum nationwide. The project has sponsored teaching institutes and publications that continue to be incorporated into course syllabi:

- Masterworks of Asian Literature in Comparative Perspective: A Guide for Teaching
- Asia in Western and World History: A Guide for Teaching

Video Series

Two series of videos, on the history and literature of Japan and China, complement the teaching guides and are designed specifically to provide faculty with greater background in these areas. They are now incorporated into the Asia for Educators website in smaller modules for faculty and student use at all educational levels. The topics in the series on Japanese history and literature, produced with funding from the Henry Luce Foundation, are Classical Japan and The Tale of Genji (552–1185); Medieval Japan and Buddhism in Literature (1185–1600); and Tokuga-
2016–2017 Work-Study and Casual Worker Students

Hannah Story Brown (CC); Erin Cao (CC); Ozzie Chung (SIPA); Veronique Ehamo (SIPA); Mitchell Haverty (CC); Daniel Jin (SIPA); Trevor Menders (CC); Ned Russin (GS); Leyth Swidan (SIPA); Grace Tjandra (SIPA); Alex Sangwon Ye (CC); Nina Zweig (CC). Summer 2017 GSAS Fellow in Academic Administration: Lei Lei (PhD Candidate, EALAC).

In 2016–2017, WEAI said farewell to temporary administrative assistant Angela Brown, administrative assistant Aspasia Burnworth, director of finance Elizabeth Demissie, senior coordinator Vanessa Giardino, and executive director Waichi Ho. We wish them all the best in their future endeavors.
The wide diversity of individual and group research projects, outreach activities, and publications would not be possible without generous support. The Weatherhead East Asian Institute gratefully acknowledges the funding received from the following organizations and individuals during the 2016–2017 academic year.

Anonymous (2)
Conrad W. Bauer
Borton Mosely Fund
Columbia University Alumni Association of Korea Fund
Phyllis Dickstein
Freeman Foundation
Helen Clay Frick Foundation
Dr. Elizabeth Galton
H. B. Henson Fund
The Estate of Julie How
The Estate of Robert M. Immerman
The Japan Foundation
Wellington Koo Fund
The Korea Foundation
Paul F. Langer Fund
Henry Luce Foundation
The Chuan Lyu Foundation
The Mitsui U.S.A. Foundation
The Sasakawa Foundation
Mervyn W. Adams Seldon
Seward & Kissel LLP
Haitao Shen

Myoung Soo Shin Fund
Daniel and Marianne Spiegel Fund
The Springcreek Foundation
Taipei Economic and Cultural Office
Toyota Motor Corporation
United States Department of Education
United States Department of State
The NT and Mabel Wang Fund
The Weatherhead Foundation
C. Martin Wilbur Fund
Sylvia Lew Wong
Wu Fellowship Fund

For further information, please contact:
Weatherhead East Asian Institute
Columbia University
Mail Code 3333
420 West 118th Street
New York, NY 10027
Tel: 212-854-2592
Fax: 212-749-1497
weai.columbia.edu