12. Graduate School of Arts & Sciences Multi-Year Funding Information

GSAS Multi-Year Funding Policy: Please confirm if you are eligible under the GSAS Funding Policy before applying.

(1) A comprehensive program of financial aid is available for Ph.D. students, including fellowships and appointments in teaching and research as appropriate to their program. Ph.D. students normally receive the annual prevailing stipend and appropriate tuition and health fees for five years, provided that they remain in good academic standing and, in the case of student officers, have discharged responsibly their pedagogical or research duties. If students receive a year of advanced standing they are entitled to four years of fellowship funding.

(2) After the fifth year of funding (the fourth for students with advanced standing), students may be eligible for, but are not entitled to, additional support.

(3) Students are not eligible to receive GSAS fellowships after their seventh year of registration. Exceptions are made only for students who receive major outside fellowships that require GSAS to contribute to the cost of tuition and health fees or students who have received an accommodation under the GSAS Policy on Suspension of Responsibilities for Childbirth and Adoption.

(4) These time limits and restrictions on funding do not affect a student's ability to apply for outside grants or Title IV funding (Federal Perkins Loans, Ford Federal Subsidized and Unsubsidized Loans, and Federal Work-Study).

(5) Note: The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences requires that all work for the Ph.D. degree must be completed within nine years of full-time registration, less any advanced standing granted, as noted in the regulation concerning Satisfactory Academic Progress.
